Working with Nature against Poverty Budy P Resosudarmo, Frank Jotzo, 2009 With its low incomes lagging social indicators and widespread poverty eastern Indonesia epitomizes the problems of development in Indonesia The challenge is to advance the economy But this means more intensive use of natural resources placing pressure on the region s unique ecosystems This book explores the trade offs and synergies between development social concerns and the environment in Papua Maluku and East Nusa Tenggara It is written by leading scholars and experts on the region They investigate the dilemmas of fishing in eastern Indonesia s seas the strategies and challenges for mining and forestry and the efforts to tackle biodiversity conservation and climate change The book lays out the challenges for development public administration and public health in Papua It maps Maluku s road to recovery from conflict And it examines ways to alleviate poverty in the desperately poor province of East Nusa Tenggara The book provides an overview of the economy of each of these provinces making it an essential resource for anyone interested in the challenges of development and environment in eastern Indonesia

Customary Land Tenure and Registration in Australia and Papua New Guinea James F. Weiner, Katie Glaskin, 2007-06-01 The main theme of this volume is a discussion of the ways in which legal mechanisms such as the Land Groups Incorporation Act 1974 in PNG and the Native Title Act 1993 in Australia do not as they purport serve merely to identify and register already existing customary indigenous landowning groups in these countries Because the legislation is an integral part of the way in which indigenous people are defined and managed in relation to the State it serves to elicit particular responses in landowner organisation and self identification on the part of indigenous people These pieces of legislation actively contour the progressive evolution of landowner social territorial and political organisation at all levels in these nation states The contributors to this volume provide in depth anthropological case studies of social structural and cultural transformations engendered by the confrontation between states developers and indigenous communities over rights to customarily owned land

BRAC, Global Policy Language, and Women in Bangladesh Manzurul Mannan, 2015-09-01 Founded in 1972 and now the largest NGO in the world BRAC has been lauded for its efforts aimed at lifting the poor especially women out of poverty In BRAC Global Policy Language and Women in Bangladesh Manzurul Mannan while not denying the many positive accomplishments of BRAC places the organization under a critical microscope Drawing on his experience as a Bangladeshi native and BRAC insider Mannan provides unique insights into not only BRAC s phenomenal growth and its role in diffusing western and development ideologies but also more importantly how target populations have been affected culturally and socially He explains how BRAC has employed western ideas theories and philosophies of agency when engaging in development interventions in even the remotest villages seeking to transform social structures women s status and the local polity The resulting intermingling of exogenous perspectives with local knowledge leads to a degree of inconsistency and dissonance within BRAC s own operations while generating opposition from local commoners and elites Cautionary yet hopeful the book advocates greater cultural sensitivity as a way to mitigate conflict between BRAC and the constituencies it serves
