Framing Medieval

Bodies Sarah Kay, Miri Rubin, 1996 In this book available at last in paperback Kauppi develops a structural constructivist theory of the European Union and critically analyses through French and Finnish empirical cases the political practices that maintain the Union's democratic deficit Kauppi conceptualises the European Union as both an arena for political contention and a nascent political order In this evolving multi levelled European political field individuals and groups construct material and symbolic structures of political power grounded in a variety of social resources such as nationality culture and gender The author shows how the dominance of both executive political resources and domestic political cultures has prevented the development of European democracy Supranational executive networks have become more autonomous reinforcing the dominance of the resources they control At the same time national political cultures condition the political status of elected institutions such as the European parliament The book is particularly suited for undergraduate and graduate students in the fields of European Politics European Union Studies and International Relations American Book Publishing Record

Knights and Warhorses Andrew Ayton, 1999 Dr Ayton has transformed understanding of Edward III's armies compulsory reading for anyone interested in the Hundred Years War WAR IN HISTORY Michael Prestwich The mounted armoured knight is one of the most potent symbols of medieval civilisation indeed for much of the middle ages the armoured warhorse was what defined a man as a member of the military class However despite the status of the knightly warrior in medieval society the military service of the later medieval English aristocracy remains an unaccountably neglected subject and the warhorse itself has never attracted a major study based upon archival sources This book seeks to open up new fields of research it focuses on the horse inventories documents which offer detailed lists of men at arms and their appraised warhorses the valuation of which is a measure of its owner's social and military status Dr Ayton is primarily concerned with the inventories and related records for Edward III's reign a period which witnessed significant changes in the organisation of the English fighting machine The documents produced during this period of military revolution cast valuable light on the character and attitudes of the aristocratic military community at a time when its traditional role was in the course of re evaluation Dr ANDREW AYTON is senior lecturer in history at the University of Hull
