

B. THE ROLE OF SOCIAL STUDIES

Social studies develops the key values and attitudes, knowledge and understanding, and skills and processes necessary for students to become active and responsible citizens, engaged in the democratic process and aware of their capacity to effect change in their communities, society and world.

C. VALUES AND ATTITUDES

Social studies provides learning opportunities for students to:

- Value the diversity, respect the dignity and support the equality of all human beings
- Demonstrate social compassion, fairness and justice
- Appreciate and respect how multiple perspectives, including

- Understand the historical and contemporary realities
- Understand the multi ethnic and intercultural makeup
- Understand the challenges and opportunities that immigration
- Understand how social cohesion can be achieved in a pluralistic society

PLURALISTIC AND DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A pluralistic and democratic society is one that respects the rights and freedoms of all its citizens. It is a society where different groups and individuals can coexist and contribute to the development of the nation. In such a society, the government is accountable to the people, and the rights of the minority are protected. The society is characterized by a high level of social cohesion and a strong sense of national identity. The government is responsible for ensuring the well-being of all its citizens and for promoting the development of the nation. The society is also characterized by a high level of social justice and a strong sense of social responsibility. The government is responsible for ensuring that all citizens have access to the same opportunities and resources. The society is also characterized by a high level of social participation and a strong sense of social responsibility. The government is responsible for ensuring that all citizens have a say in the decisions that affect their lives.

VALUES AND ATTITUDES

Values and attitudes are the foundation of a pluralistic and democratic society. They are the principles and beliefs that guide the behavior of individuals and groups. In a pluralistic and democratic society, the values of respect, tolerance, and social justice are paramount. These values are essential for ensuring that all citizens have the same rights and opportunities. Attitudes are the feelings and beliefs that influence the way we think and act. In a pluralistic and democratic society, the attitudes of openness, empathy, and social responsibility are essential for building a strong and cohesive community. Values and attitudes are not innate; they are learned and can be taught. Schools and families play a crucial role in shaping the values and attitudes of young people. By teaching children the values of respect, tolerance, and social justice, and by modeling these values in their own behavior, adults can help to create a more just and equitable society.
