Andersen,2019-01-15 This title was first published in 2003 Most European cities have experienced problems in certain neighbourhoods that are termed deprived or excluded Traditionally these were found in the oldest urban areas with lowest quality housing but since the 1980s such areas have emerged in housing estates built around the cities edges These neighbourhoods are marked by visible physical and social problems that disfigure the otherwise pleasant urban landscape and can be seen as urban sores This engaging and thought provoking book provides a deeper understanding of why urban decay and deprived neighbourhoods appear in certain parts of cities as well as how they affect residents and cities in general Drawing on in depth empirical research from Denmark it compares this with other studies from Europe and the United States The author combines theories and methodologies from the fields of geography on segregation economics on processes of urban decay and social research on social exclusion and deprived neighbourhoods to provide original illuminating and invaluable insights

How to Build a Global City

Michele Acuto,2022-01-15 In How to Build a Global City Michele Acuto considers the rise of a new generation of so called global cities Singapore Sydney and Dubai and the power that this concept had in their ascent in order to analyze the general relationship between global city theory and its urban public policy practice The global city is often invoked in theory and practice as an ideal model of development and a logic of internationalization for cities the world over But the global city also creates deep social polarization and challenges how much local planning can achieve in a world economy Presenting a unique elite ethnography in Singapore Sydney and Dubai Acuto discusses the global urban discourses aspirations and strategies vital to the planning and management of such metropolitan growth The global city he shows is not one single idea but a complex of ways to imagine a place to be global and aspirations to make it so often deeply steeped in politics His resulting book is a call to reconcile proponents and critics of the global city toward a more explicit engagement with the politics of this global urban imagination

Amsterdam Human Capital Sako Musterd, Willem Salet, 2025-10-01 The familiar shape of western cities is changing dramatically For long times the urban core was taken for granted as the focal point for international contacts and day to day activities in the region Currently the urban scope is transforming into multi centred forms at metropolitan scale The transition is not just a matter of spatial form it is reflecting social economic and cultural processes The question is what new identities may develop in such changing historical conditions of space and place This book is a first attempt to analyse the process of urban transformation in an integral way The focus is on the region of Amsterdam All contributions are written by senior researchers of the Amsterdam studycentre for the Metropolitan Environment AME AME is the interdisciplinary urban research institute of the Universiteit van Amsterdam As the urban research institute at the Universiteit van Amsterdam the Amsterdam studycentre for the Metropolitan Environment AME analyses the economic social and cultural aspects of this spatial transformation usually in international comparative research All contributions to this book are written by senior researchers of AME in an attempt to analyse in an integral way the present and future dilemmas out of the historical growth paths of this dynamic city

Residential Segregation in Comparative Perspective Kuniko Fujita, 2016-04-08 We know very little about variations in urban class and ethnic segregation among nations and even less about differences among cities in different regions of the world Spatial organization places and neighbourhoods matters significantly in some cities in reproducing class relations and ethno racial hierarchies but may be much less important in others The degree and the impact of segregation depend upon contextual diversity By emphasizing the importance of contextual diversity in the study of urban residential segregation the book questions currently popular urban theories such as global city neoliberal urbanism and gentrification These theories tend to dissociate cities from their national and regional context and thus ignore their history culture politics and institutions The aim of this book is to introduce the significantly different urban experiences in social and spatial segregation patterns and rationales which exist among the world s regions and to demonstrate that urban theory needs to draw systematically upon this wide range of experiences The cities selected Athens Beijing Budapest Copenhagen Hong Kong Madrid Paris S o Paulo Taipei and Tokyo were chosen in order to achieve geographical spread to maximise the diversity of types of socioeconomic regulation This volume is thus able to avoid the interpretative limitations and misconstructions resulting from universalizing the Anglo American experience
