Economic Reform and Third-World Socialism Peter Utting, 1992-06-24 Throughout the 1980s major changes in development policy took place in several Third World socialist countries This book examines why this shift from orthodoxy to reform occurred in Mozambique Vietnam and Nicaragua as well as in Cuba during the early 1980s It provides an in depth analysis of the changes which took place in economic and food policy and the nature of the crisis which prompted the reforms It focuses particularly on the role of social forces in shaping the reform process

Ripe for Revolution Jeremy Friedman, 2021-12-14 A historical account of ideology in the Global South as the postwar laboratory of socialism its legacy following the Cold War and the continuing influence of socialist ideas worldwide In the first decades after World War II many newly independent Asian and African countries and established Latin American states pursued a socialist development model Jeremy Friedman traces the socialist experiment over forty years through the experience of five countries Indonesia Chile Tanzania Angola and Iran These states sought paths to socialism without formal adherence to the Soviet bloc or the programs that Soviets East Germans Cubans Chinese and other outsiders tried to promote Instead they attempted to forge new models of socialist development through their own trial and error together with the help of existing socialist countries demonstrating the flexibility and adaptability of socialism All five countries would become Cold War battlegrounds and regional models as new policies in one shaped evolving conceptions of development in another Lessons from the collapse of democracy in Indonesia were later applied in Chile just as the challenge of political Islam in Indonesia informed the policies of the left in Iran Efforts to build agrarian economies in West Africa influenced Tanzania s approach to socialism which in turn influenced the trajectory of the Angolan model Ripe for Revolution shows socialism as more adaptable and pragmatic than often supposed When we view it through the prism of a Stalinist orthodoxy we miss its real effects and legacies both good and bad To understand how socialism succeeds and fails and to grasp its evolution and potential horizons we must do more than read manifestos We must attend to history

Education and Social Transition in the Third World Martin Carnoy, Joel Samoff, 2014-07-14 Through a comparative analysis of educational theory and practice this analytic overview illuminates the larger economic and political changes occurring in five peripheral countries China Cuba Tanzania Mozambique and Nicaragua commonly viewed as in transition to socialism Current political patterns and leadership in these countries have emerged in the context of predominantly agricultural industrially underdeveloped economies Each state has played a major role in social transformation relying on the educational system to train educate and socialize its future citizens Discussing the similarities and differences among these states the authors show the primacy of politics and the interaction of material and ideological goals in the process of social transition and how shifting policies reflect and are reflected in educational change This collection first examines critical analyses of education in capitalist societies both industrialized and peripheral and explores the utility of those perspectives in the political and educational conditions of the countries under study Together these essays offer the first systematic explanation of how and why education in socialist countries undergoing rapid change differs from education in developing capitalist countries Contributions to the study were made by Mary Ann Burris Anton Johnston and Carlos Alberto Torres Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Marx and the Third World Umberto Melotti,1977-12-01

The New World of Politics is understanding the importance of keeping the future in mind not only the immediate future but the long range future This book seeks to introduce students to political science as a discipline intimately involved with ethics empirical social scientific inquiry and public policy Neal Riemer and Douglas W Simon are endeavoring to help students respond to those future problems with understanding and wisdom A Collegiate Press book     The Soviet Union and National Liberation Movements in the Third World Galia Golan,2022-12-28 The Soviet Union and National Liberation Movements in the Third World 1988 is a systematic comparison of Soviet theory about and actual behaviour toward movements for national liberation in the Third World In this definitive study Professor Golan demonstrates that Soviet behaviour toward such movements is consistent with Soviet theory as stated in the writings and speeches of high level influential within the Party military and academic communities In so doing she advances our understanding of the rules of thumb that Soviet leaders appeared to follow in deciding whether and how to assist the varied types of anti imperialist and separatist movements in the developing world The first part of the book provides a detailed analysis of the various schools of thought among Soviet writers concerning different aspects of national liberation movements and the second part analyses actual Soviet behaviour toward numerous movements around the world     The Development Dictionary Wolfgang Sachs,1992 In this pioneering collection some of the world s most eminent critics of development review the key concepts of the development discourse in the post war era Each essay examines one concept from a historical and anthropological point of view and highlights its particular bias Exposing their historical obsolescence and intellectual sterility the authors call for a bidding farewell to the whole Eurocentric development idea This is urgently needed they argue in order to liberate people s minds in both North and South for bold responses to the environmental and ethical challenges now confronting humanity These essays are an invitation to experts grassroots movements and students of development to recognize the tainted glasses they put on whenever they participate in the development discourse     Globalization and Third-World Socialism C. Brundenius,J. Weeks,2001-03-29 After the collapse of the Soviet Union it appeared that the only option for developing countries was integration into the world economy Written by a group of international experts this book investigates the strategies deployed by Cuba and Vietnam to consider whether socialism in some form offers a viable development alternative     Soviet-Third World Relations in a Capitalist World Ellen Brun,Jacques Hersh,1990-06-18 Several aspects of Soviet Third World relations in a capitalist world are looked at in this book These include tracing the roots of the Third World within the Marxist tradition and discussing Soviet attitudes to the capitalist world market as they have evolved from the Bolshevik era to today     Secular Narrations and Transdisciplinary Knowledge Abdelmajid Hannoum,2023-05-31 This book considers secularism and its narrative expressions It shows how secularism is articulated and transmitted ubiquitously within state institutions and outside of them Abdelmajid Hannoum does this by dissecting in a series of essays a variety of narrative forms interrogating modes of their constitution and production the dynamics of their translatability the politics of their use the struggle over their status of truth and the conditions that make secular narration so central to our existence The book ranges from a medieval narrative of the secular to a modern narrative to anthropological secularism and religious experiences to narratives of translation produced by what the author calls translation ideology to historical narratives regulated by archival power and state secrecy to narratives of violence to narratives of recollection as well as narratives of silence Particular attention is paid to postcolonial French contemporary cultures and politics Transdisciplinary approaches are deployed to not only reframe old questions in new ways but also posit new questions out of old ones In doing so this innovative work opens up fresh discursive possibilities that cross traditional disciplines It will be of interest to scholars of anthropology history and beyond Tyrants
