Mapping Reality Jane Azevedo,1997-01-30 With postmodernism and poststructuralism sweeping the social sciences and humanities a whole generation of students from disciplines as diverse as history English literature philosophy sociology and anthropology are learning that truth is bogus a tired old liberal humanist fiction Language is incapable of telling the truth and science nothing but a socially constructed discourse functions to maintain the status quo There is much to be said for this point of view but ironically relativists face precisely the same quandary for if all claims to knowledge are equally valid then de facto the knowledge claims of the most powerful are the ones disseminated and acted upon This timely book offers a way out of the current realist relativist impasse Azevedo uses the insights of evolutionary epistemology to develop a naturalist realist methodology of science the mapping model of knowledge and applies it to solving the conceptual practical and ethical problems faced by sociology as a discipline The model is developed from the practice of the natural sciences and comes with an easily applied and powerful heuristic based on mapping filling the gap left by the downfall of positivist and empiricist methodologies It shows the inescapably social nature of science but argues that scientific theories can in fact be validated in perspective neutral ways not despite the social and interest driven nature of science but because of it Women And Empowerment C. Margaret Hall, 2013-09-13 Shows how women's decisions direct their lives in both public and private spheres The book specifies critical conditions and possibilities for women who want to increase their opportunities Patterns in women's behaviour and concerns are analyzed by applying the author's sociological theory Violence Against Women Carolyn M. Sampselle, 1992 A collection of papers on violence against women which looks at the kind of contribution nursing can make to help decrease abuse Set in a feminist framework the book focuses beyond the target and the perpetrator to encompass context violence physical sexual domestic pregnancy and childhood
