Fiction, 1888-1988 , Translation as Criticism Anna Gadd Colombi, 2018-07-27 Themes places characters and voices of Elizabeth Jolley's Mr Scobie's Riddle are explored in detail in this monograph which provides different narratological and translational analyses of the novel as well as an academic translation into Italian. Considering the challenges and issues posited by a literary work's translation helps to shed light on the original work itself. In this manner the translation is to be seen as a further analytical instrument to gain insight into the original novel. The purpose of this work is to obtain a deeper understanding of the complicated microcosm created by Jolley in the nursing home of St Christopher and St Jude: the typically Australian themes of migration, isolation, place and displacement; the Australian culture-specific elements; the ensemble of curious characters and their entertaining voices. This book strives to preserve the above elements in translation as the expression of something Other, a different culture, and to take Italian readers on a journey to the Australia depicted in Mr Scobie's Riddle so that Jolley's characters' voices can echo in the Italian language. Change in Children's Literature Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, Anja Müller, 2016-12-01 This volume focuses on the de-canonization processes in children's literature, considering the construction and cultural/historical changes of canons in different children's literatures. Chapters by international experts in the field explore a wide range of different children's literatures from Great Britain, Germany, Scandinavia, the Low Countries, Eastern and Central Europe, as well as from Non-European countries such as Australia, Israel and the United States. Situating the inquiry within larger literary and cultural studies conversations about canonicity, the contributors assess representative authors and works that have encountered changing fates in the course of canon history. Particular emphasis is given to sociological canon theories which have so far been under-represented in canon research in children's literature. The volume therefore relates historical changes in the canon of children's literature not only to historical changes in concepts of childhood but to more encompassing political, social, economic, cultural and ideological shifts. This volume's comparative approach takes cognizance of the fact that if canon formation is an important cultural factor in nation-building processes, a comparative study is essential to assessing transnational processes in canon formation. This book thus renders evident the structural similarities between patterns and strategies of canon formation emerging in different children's literatures. Patrick White's Fiction Carolyn Bliss, 1986-08-18 This study examines all eleven novels of Patrick White, the great Australian writer and Nobel Prize winner. It begins from the observation that major characters in his novels undergo a necessary redemptive or facilitating failure. This failure paradoxically enables their success within the context of what White has called the overreaching grandeur which circumscribes human existence. Evolution of this theme is traced through forty years of White's fiction, from his first novel Happy Valley (1939) to his most recent work The Twyborn Affair (1979). Comprehensive in its scope, this book is informed by a thorough knowledge of White's poetry, plays, short stories and autobiography, as well as his novels. It is also unique in stressing that White's world view derives from a distinctly Australian experience. It thus links him to a country in which he is deeply rooted and to a heritage he continued to affirm Heritage, Labour and the Working Classes Laurajane Smith, Paul Shackel, Gary Campbell, 2012-05-23 Heritage Labour and the Working Classes is both a celebration and commemoration of working class culture It contains sometimes inspiring accounts of working class communities and people telling their own stories and weaves together examples of tangible and intangible heritage place history memory music and literature Rather than being framed in a social inclusion framework which sees working class culture as a deficit this book addresses the question What is labour and working class heritage how does it differ or stand in opposition to dominant ways of understanding heritage and history and in what ways is it used as a contemporary resource It also explores how heritage is used in working class communities and by labour organizations and considers what meanings and significance this heritage may have while also identifying how and why communities and their heritage have been excluded Drawing on new scholarship in heritage studies social memory the public history of labour and new working class studies this volume highlights the heritage of working people communities and organizations Contributions are drawn from a number of Western countries including the USA UK Spain Sweden Australia and New Zealand and from a range of disciplines including heritage and museum studies history sociology politics archaeology and anthropology Heritage Labour and the Working Classes represents an innovative and useful resource for heritage and museum practitioners students and academics concerned with understanding community heritage and the debate on social inclusion exclusion It offers new ways of understanding heritage its values and consequences and presents a challenge to dominant and traditional frameworks for understanding and identifying heritage and heritage making Social Pattern in Australian Literature Tom Inglis Moore, 1971 'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901 1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter war years Born with the twentieth century a Federation baby she published ten novels amongst them one of the best loved Australian stories of all time The Timeless Land Her life spanned successive global crises two world wars the economic depression of the 1930s the Cold War each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be By far the most privileged writer of her generation her ultimate challenge was a personal one to unlock the gates of her world proof life to a society and a world in crisis The first cross cultural biography of this famous Australian writer Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J.
