Social Science And Government Policies And Problems:

Social Science and Government A. B. Cherns, W. I. Jenkins, R. Sinclair, 2013-10-11 Tavistock Press was established as a co-operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences. This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate. Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press. Reproduced here in facsimile, this volume was originally published in 1972 and is available individually. The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection. Whitehall and the Labour Problem in late-Victorian and Edwardian Britain Roger Davidson, 2024-09-18 Most interpretations of late Victorian and Edwardian social and economic trends have relied heavily upon the industrial labour statistics published by Whitehall. This book, originally published in 1985, incorporates a critical examination of the human resources motivation and statistical techniques which generate that data base. It focuses on the production structure and output of the official statistics relating to a range of imperfections in the labour market and industrial relations characterised by contemporary social observers, administrators and policy makers as the labour problem. This study makes a significant contribution to the recent debate over the nature and motivation of late Victorian and Edwardian social policy. It provides a case study with which to assess the hypotheses put forward by social scientists as to the relationship between social statistics and policy. Thirdly, in examining the motivation of official statisticians, the book will illuminate the changing role of the expert in British government growth since 1800. This book, with its wide range of primary sources, will be valuable to students of the history of late Victorian and Edwardian Britain and to the development of British industrial relations and the welfare state. A Strategic Approach to Urban Research and Development: Social and Behavioral Science Considerations National Research Council (U.S.). Part A and B collate experts in Economics, Finance, Public Policy, Human Resources and Risk Management contributing on employability, labour markets, sustainability and skills of the future from across the globe. Social Science Research and Decision-making Carol H. Weiss, Michael J. Bucuvalas, 1980 Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2014-10-08 Now in its 4th edition, this popular text for secondary social studies methods courses integrates discussions of educational goals and the nature of history and social studies with ideas for organizing social studies curricula, units, lessons, projects and activities. A major theme throughout is that what teachers choose to teach and the way they teach reflect their broader understanding of society, history and the purpose of social studies education. Advocating an inquiry and activity-based view of social studies teaching.

Politics and Policies for Water Resources Management in India M. Dinesh Kumar,2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume explores the interface between politics and policy making in the water management sector of India The authors discuss the nature of the political discourse on water management in India and what characterizes this discourse They also explore how this discourse has influenced the process of framing water related policies in India particularly through the academics bureaucrat politician nexus and the growing influence of the civil society groups on policy makers which are the defining feature of this process and which have produced certain policy outcomes that are not supported by sufficient scientific evidence The book reveals that the social and management sciences despite being increasingly relevant in contemporary water management are unable to impress upon traditional engineer dominated water administration to seek solutions to complex water problems owing to a lack of interdisciplinary perspective in their research The authors also examine the current deadlock in undertaking sectoral reforms due to existing water policies not being honoured This collection includes several research studies which suggest legal institutional policy alternatives for addressing the problems in areas such as irrigation rural and urban water supply flood control and adaptation to climate variability and change It was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development
