BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Clarks of Cooperstown Nicholas Fox Weber, 2009-03-12 Nicholas Fox Weber author of the acclaimed Patron Saints Exhilarating avant-garde entertainment Sam Hunter The New York Times Book Review and Balthus The authoritative account of his life and work Michael Ravitch Newsday gives us now the idiosyncratic lives of Sterling and Stephen Clark two of America's greatest art collectors heirs to the Singer sewing machine fortune and for decades enemies of each other He tells the story as well of the two generations that preceded theirs giving us an intimate portrait of one of the least known of America's richest families He begins with Edward Clark the brothers' grandfather who amassed the Clark fortune in the late nineteenth century a man with nerves of steel a Sunday school teacher who became the business partner of the wild inventor and genius Isaac Merritt Singer And by the turn of the twentieth century was the major stockholder of the Singer Manufacturing Company We follow Edward's rise as a real estate wizard making headlines in 1880 when he commissioned Manhattan's first luxury apartment building The house was called Clark's Folly today it's known as the Dakota We see Clark's son Alfred enigmatic and famously reclusive at thirty-eight he inherited 50 million and became one of the country's richest men An image of propriety good husband father of four in Europe he led a secret homosexual life Alfred was a man with a passion for art and charity which he passed on to his four sons in particular Sterling and Stephen Clark Sterling the second oldest buccaneering and controversial loved impressionism created his own museum in Williamstown Massachusetts and shocked his family by marrying an actress from the Comedie Francaise Together the Sterling Clarks collected thousands of paintings and bred racehorses In a highly public case Sterling sued his three brothers over issues of inheritance and then never spoke to them again He was one of the central figures linked to a bizarre and little-known attempted coup against Franklin Delano Roosevelt's presidency We are told what really happened and why and who in American politics was implicated but never prosecuted Sterling's brother

Stephen self effacing and responsible became chairman and president of the Museum of Modern Art and gave that institution its first painting Edward Hopper's House by the Railroad Thirteen years later in an act that provoked intense controversy Stephen dismissed the Museum's visionary founding director Alfred Barr who for more than a decade had single handedly established the collection and exhibition programs that determined how the art of the twentieth century was regarded Stephen gave or bequeathed to museums many of the paintings that today are still their greatest attractions With authority insight and a flair for evoking time and place Weber examines the depths of the brothers passions the vehemence of their lifelong feud the great art they acquired and the profound and lasting impact they had on artistic vision in America
