The Commons In Perspective:

The Commons in Perspective Philip Norton, 1981 Commons Perspectives in South Korea Hyun Choe, Ja-Kyung Kim, Hun-Gyo Jang, Yea-Yl Yoon, Suh-Hyun Park, 2022-03-13 Since its founding in 2011 the Research Center on the Commons and Sustainable Society has been at the forefront of Commons Research in South Korea This book brings together the discoveries and insights the Center has produced in its first decade as a contribution to international commons research and to the understanding of the commons in South Korea particularly Divided into five main parts the book charts the course of commons research in South Korea Part I surveys the historical background to commons thinking through the course of its foundation as a dictator led developmental state through to its current democratic and neoliberal status quo Following on from this Part II looks at how diverse commons perspectives have taken root during this period Part III then analyses the various specific fields through which commons research in Korea has grown After this Part IV presents the fruits of this commons research the alternative policies and social actions that have been proposed for Korean society Lastly Part V addresses the remaining challenges which ongoing commons research in Korea is seeking to address An insightful resource for scholars of both Korean political economy and commons studies more broadly Space, Power and the Commons Samuel Kirwan, Leila Dawney, Julian Brigstocke, 2015-10-23 Across the globe political movements opposing privatisation enclosures and other spatial controls are coalescing towards the idea of the commons As a result struggles over the commons and common life are now coming to the forefront of both political activism and scholarly enquiry This book advances academic debates concerning the spatialities of the commons and draws out the diverse materialities temporalities and experiences of practices of commoning Part one Materialising the Commons focuses on the performance of new geographical imaginations in spatial and material practices of commoning Part two Spaces of Commoning explores the importance of the turn from commons to commoning bringing together chapters focusing on the doing of commons and how spaces materials bodies and abstract flows are intertwined in these complex and excessive processes Part three An Expanded Commons explores the broader registers and spaces in which the concept of the commons is at stake and highlights how and where the commons can open new areas of action and research Part four The Capture of the Commons questions the particular interdependence of the commons and enclosure assumed within commons literature framed by the concept of neoliberalism Providing a comprehensive introduction to the diverse ways in which ideas of the commons are being conceptualised and enacted both throughout the social sciences and in practical action this book foregrounds the commons as an arena for political thought and sets an agenda for future research Carving Out the Commons Amanda Huron, 2018-03-13 An investigation of the practice of commoning in urban housing and its necessity for challenging economic injustice in our rapidly gentrifying cities Provoked by mass evictions and the onset of gentrification in the 1970s tenants in Washington D C began forming cooperative organizations to collectively purchase and manage their apartment buildings These tenants were creating a commons taking a resource housing that had been used to extract profit from them and reshaping it as a resource that was collectively owned by them In Carving Out the Commons Amanda Huron theorizes the practice of urban commoning through a close investigation of the city's limited equity housing cooperatives Drawing on feminist and anticapitalist perspectives Huron asks whether a commons can work in a city where land and other resources are scarce and how strangers who may not share a past or future come together to create and maintain commonly held spaces in the midst of capitalism Arguing against the romanticization of the commons she instead positions the urban commons as a pragmatic practice Through the practice of commoning she contends we can learn to build communities to challenge capitalism's totalizing claims over life

Capitalism and the Commons Andreas Exner, Sarah Kumnig, Stephan Hochleithner, 2020-12-30 Capitalism and the Commons focuses on the political and social perspectives that commons offer how they are appropriated or suppressed by capital and state and how social initiatives and movements contest these dynamics or build their struggles on commoning The volume comprises theoretical and empirical approaches that engage with three main themes conceptualizing the commons analyzing practices of commoning and exploring commons politics In their contributions the authors focus on the development of anti-capitalist commons and explore the issue of practice and politics through case studies from Colombia the Democratic Republic of Congo South Africa and Africa more broadly Austria Germany and South Korea ranging from peri-urban and rural agriculture to urban commons and how they manifest in the Global South as well as in the Global North The book engages with different discourses on the commons in regard to their relevance for social change and thereby reinvigorates the political meaning of the commons It provides an original and important approach to the topic in terms of conceptualization detailing diverse empirical realities and analyzing potential perspectives In so doing the book transcends narrow disciplinary boundaries and expands the focus to the global Providing a fresh perspective on the commons as a decisive component of alternatives this title will be relevant to scholars and students of resource management social movements and sustainable development more broadly

The Commons in a Glocal World Tobias Haller, Thomas Breu, Tine De Moor, Christian Rohr, Heinzpeter Znoj, 2019-04-30 This volume focuses on how in Europe the debate on the commons is discussed in regard to historical and contemporary dimensions critically referencing the work of Elinor Ostrom It also explores from the perspective of new institutional political ecology NIPE how Europe directly and indirectly affected and affects the commons globally Most of the research on the management of commons pool resources is limited to dealing with one of two topics either the interaction between local participatory governance and development of institutions for commons management or a political economy approach that focuses on global change as it is related to the increasingly globalised expansion of capitalist modes of production consumption and societal reproduction This volume bridges the two addressing how global players affect the commons worldwide and how they relate to responses emerging from within the commons in a global local glocal world Authors from a range of academic disciplines present research findings on recent developments on the commons including historical insights new innovations for participatory institutions building in Europe or several types of commons grabbing especially in Africa related to European investments and restrictions on the management of commons at the international level European case studies are included providing interesting examples of local participation in commons resource management while simultaneously showing Europe as a centre for globalized capitalism and its norms and values affecting the rest of the world particularly developing countries This book will be of interest to students and researchers from a wide range of disciplines including natural resource management environmental governance political geography and environmental history Biological Perspectives

,2002-07-31 The Drama of the Commons National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Committee on the Human Dimensions of Global Change,2002-03-15 The tragedy of the commons is a central concept in human ecology and the study of the environment It has had tremendous value for stimulating research but it only describes the reality of human environment interactions in special situations Research over the past thirty years has helped clarify how human motivations rules governing access to resources the structure of social organizations and the resource systems themselves interact to determine whether or not the many dramas of the commons end happily In this book leaders in the field review the evidence from several disciplines and many lines of research and present a state of the art assessment They summarize lessons learned and identify the major challenges facing any system of governance for resource management They also highlight the major challenges for the next decade making knowledge development more systematic understanding institutions dynamically considering a broader range of resources such as global and technological commons and taking into account the effects of social and historical context This book will be a valuable and accessible introduction to the field for students and a resource for advanced researchers The Commons in the New Millennium Nives

Dolsak,Elinor Ostrom,2003-02-14 Globalization population growth and resource depletion are drawing increased attention to the importance of common resources such as forests water resources and fisheries It is critical that these resources be governed in an equitable and sustainable way The Commons in the New Millennium presents cutting edge research in common property theory and provides an overview and progress report on common property research The book analyzes new problems that owners managers policy makers and analysts face in managing natural commons It examines recent findings about the physical characteristics of the commons their complexity and interconnectedness and the role of social capital It also provides empirical studies and suggestions for sustainable development The topics discussed include the role of financial political and social capital in deforestation community efforts to gain political influence in Indonesia the Maine lobster industry outcomes of the implementation of individual transferable quotas in New Zealand and Iceland fisheries and design of multilateral emissions trading for regional air pollution and global warming Rethinking Economics Starting from the Commons Valentina Rotondi,Paolo Santori,2023-02-20 This book proposes a new approach to economics starting from the commons and based on the Economy of Francesco EoF a worldwide movement of young people who aim to change the current economic models and working towards a fair sustainable and inclusive economic system EoF was convened by Pope Francis and is inspired by the example of St Francis of Assisi featuring Franciscan economic roots and institutions as well as theories of the social sciences The authors raise and answer several important questions throughout the volume such as What if the economic courses taught in the universities across the globe focused their attention on the topics of the commons rather than on private goods What if social businesses rather than being considered as a hybrid form of businesses became the normal approach and ethical and green finance ruled over the standard financial sector Is it possible to move away from the primacy of the consumers to the preeminence of ethical consumers who express their preferences for an inclusive sustainable and workers friendly economic system with their daily choices Using a unique approach the book includes the contributions of prominent scholars which are integrated and discussed by young international scholars providing a fresh analysis with a glance of hope for the future The book is a must read for students scholars and researchers of economics and related disciplines interested in alternatives to the current economic mainstream in general and the Economy of Francesco in particular
