Situation Tragedy Simon Brett, 1983 The Impossible Woman Kristen Hoerl, 2025-11-11 Although it may seem like the proliferation of strong women on television is a feminist achievement a deeper look into their stories tells us otherwise The Impossible Woman examines a variety of scripted US television series across multiple genres to show how the cultural value of television's extraordinarily talented female characters often rests upon their ability to endure but not overcome sexism Looking at Parks and Recreation The Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt The Marvelous Mrs Maisel The Queen's Gambit Game of Thrones and Queen of the South Hoerl argues that these series contribute to sexist realism or the cultural assumption that there is no alternative to patriarchy Situating impossible women's struggles in the context of contemporary feminist politics Hoerl explains how the problems facing television's strongest women illustrate mainstream feminism's paradoxical dependence upon on cultural misogyny neoliberal individualism and racism The Impossible Woman encourages readers to seek out alternative stories that might help them envision more just feminist futures Present Imperfect

Andrew van der Vlies, 2017-05-19 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa's literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a disappointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present Reframing Todd Haynes Theresa L. award winning independent filmmaker Todd Haynes who emerged in the early 1990s as a foundational figure in New Queer Cinema has gained critical recognition for his outsider perspective Today Haynes is widely known for bringing women's stories to the screen Analyzing Haynes's films including Safe 1995 Velvet Goldmine 1998 Far from Heaven 2002 and Carol 2015 as well as his unauthorized Karen Carpenter biopic Superstar 1987 and the television miniseries Mildred Pierce 2011 the contributors to Reframing Todd Haynes reassess his work in light of his long standing feminist commitments and his exceptional career as a director of women s films They present multiple perspectives on Haynes s film and television work and on his role as an artist activist who draws on academic theorizations of gender and cinema The volume illustrates the influence of feminist theory on Haynes s aesthetic vision most evident in his persistent interest in the political and formal possibilities afforded by the genre of the woman s film The contributors contend that no consideration of Haynes s work can afford to ignore the crucial place of feminism within it Contributors Danielle Bouchard Nick Davis Jigna Desai Mary R Desjardins Patrick Flanery Theresa L Geller Rebecca M Gordon Jess Issacharoff Lynne Joyrich Bridget Kies Julia Leyda David E Maynard Noah A Tsika Patricia White Sharon Willis The Situation in El Salvador United States. The Skin of the System Benjamin Robinson, 2009-09-28 The Skin of the System objects to the idea that there is only one modernity that of liberal capitalism Starting from the simple conviction that whatever else East German socialism was it was real this book focuses on what made historical socialism different from social systems in the West In this way the study elicits the general question what must we think in order to think an other system at all To approach this question Robinson turns to the remarkable writer Franz F hmann the East German who most single mindedly dedicated himself to understanding what it means to transform from fascism to socialism F hmann's own serial loyalties to Hitler and Stalin inform his existential meditations on change and difference By placing F hmann's politically alert and intensely personal literary inventions in the context of an inquiry into radical social rupture The Skin of the System wrests the brutal materiality of twentieth century socialism from attempts to provincialize both its desires and its failures as antimodern ideological follies

Inhospitable World Jennifer Fay, 2018-03-01 In recent years environmental and human rights advocates have suggested that we have entered the first new geological epoch since the end of the ice age the Anthropocene In this new epoch humans have come to reshape unwittingly both the climate and natural world humankind has caused mass extinctions of plant and animal species polluted the oceans and irreversibly altered the atmosphere Ironically our efforts to make the planet more hospitable to ourselves seem to be driving us toward our inevitable extinction A force of nature humanity is now decentered as the agent of history As Jennifer Fay argues this new situation is to geological science what cinema has always been to human culture Film like the Anthropocene is a product of the industrial revolution but arises out of a desire to preserve life and master time and space It also calls for the creation of artificial worlds unnatural weather and deadly environments for entertainment scientific study and devising military strategy Filmmaking stages quite literally the process by which worlds and weather come into being and meaning and it mimics the forces that are driving this new planetary inhospitality Cinema in other words provides an image of nature in the age of its mechanical reproducibility Fay argues that cinema exemplifies the philosophical political and perhaps even logistical processes by which we can adapt to these forces and also imagine a world without humans in it Whereas standard ecological criticism attends to the environmental crisis as an unraveling of our natural state this book looks to film from Buster Keaton to Jia Zhangke to films of atomic testing and early polar exploration to consider how it reflects upon the creation and destruction of human environments What are the implications of ecological inhospitality What role might cinema and media theory play in challenging our presumed right to occupy and populate the world As an art form film enjoys a unique relationship to the material elemental world it captures and produces Through it we may appreciate the ambitions to design an unhomely planet that may no longer accommodate us
