answers still elude us You don't understand the software running your car or your iPhone But here's a secret neither do the geniuses at Apple or the Ph.D.s at Toyota not perfectly anyway No one not lawyers doctors accountants or policy makers fully grasps the rules governing your tax return your retirement account or your hospital's medical machinery The same technological advances that have simplified our lives have made the systems governing our lives incomprehensible unpredictable and overcomplicated In Overcomplicated complexity scientist Samuel Arbesman offers a fresh insightful field guide to living with complex technologies that defy human comprehension As technology grows more complex Arbesman argues its behavior mimics the vagaries of the natural world more than it conforms to a mathematical model If we are to survive and thrive in this new age we must abandon our need for governing principles and rules and accept the chaos By embracing and observing the freak accidents and flukes that disrupt our lives we can gain valuable clues about how our algorithms really work What's more we will become better thinkers scientists and innovators as a result Lucid and energizing this book is a vital new analysis of the world heralded as modern for anyone who wants to live wisely Food and the Literary Imagination J. and orality play in the reception and dissemination of those genres arguing that late medieval vernacular forms can be used to delineate the interests and perspectives of the subaltern Via an interdisciplinary approach contributors use theories of multimodality translation manuscript studies sound studies gender studies and activist New Formalism to address how and for whom popular vernacular medieval forms were made Later Middle English Literature, Materiality, and Culture Brian Gastle, Erick Kelemen, 2018-04-12 The essays in this volume consider the ways in which material and intellectual culture both shaped and were shaped by the literature of late medieval England The first section Textual Material reflects on cultural and social issues generally referred to as the History of Ideas and how those ideas manifest in later medieval English texts Essays address for example affect in The Book of Margery Kempe rhetoric in Sir Gawain and the Green Knight anarchy in late medieval political texts and temporality in Gower's Confessio Amantis The essays in the second section Material Texts examine physical objects from pilgrim badges to manuscripts to money to early printed editions and the cultural behaviors associated with them interpreting these objects and exploring their connections to the important literary and political texts of the age such as Piers Plowman Lydgate's Troy Book and Chaucer's Canterbury Tales All of the essays in this collection emerge from the relationships and connections between the issues that characterize Jim Dean's work the cultural material and aesthetic aspects of later medieval English literature So too do they reflect a movement in medieval literary studies presaged by Dean's career of scholarship and teaching that critical approaches to literary texts are best undertaken with an understanding of the complex cultural and historical milieu that defines both the production of those texts and the production of our own work on those texts The Language of Heresy in Late Medieval English Literature Erin K. Wagner, 2024-04-22 Vernacular writers of late medieval England were engaged in global conversations about orthodoxy and heresy Entering these conversations with a developing vernacular required lexical innovation The Language of Heresy in Late Medieval English Literature examines the way in which these writers complemented seemingly straightforward terms like heretic with a range of synonyms that complicated the definitions of both those words and orthodoxy itself This text proposes four specific terms that become collated with heretic in the parlance of medieval English writers of the 14th and 15th centuries jangler Jew Saracen and witch These four labels are especially important insofar as they represent the way in which medieval Christianity appropriated and subverted marginalized or vulnerable identities to promote a false image of unassailable authority The Shewings of Julian of Norwich Georgia Ronan Crampton, 1994-09-01 This fascinating first person account of the visions experienced by the anchoress Julian of Norwich in May of 1373 is remarkable for its vivid prose and as an example both of early autobiographical writing in the vernacular and of a spiritual document This practical edition includes a gloss an introduction notes and a glossary making it valuable to students of Middle English and medieval mysticism alike The Book of Margery Kempe Lynn Staley, 1996-12-01 In this fresh classroom friendly volume Margery Kempe a married woman from fifteenth century England dictates her remarkable life story Far from provincial this extraordinary woman tells
