philosophic minds than mine have thought over the religious side of this subject and many more scientific brains have turned their attention to its phenomenal aspect So far as I know however there has been no former attempt to show the exact relation of the one to the other I feel that if I should succeed in making this a little more clear I shall have helped in what I regard as far the most important question with which the human race is concerned A celebrated Psychic Mrs Piper uttered in the year 1899 words which were recorded by Dr Hodgson at the time She was speaking in trance upon the future of spiritual religion and she said In the next century this will be astonishingly perceptible to the minds of men I will also make a statement which you will surely see verified Before the clear revelation of spirit communication there will be a terrible war in different parts of the world The entire world must be purified and cleansed before mortal can see through his spiritual vision his friends on this side and it will take just this line of action to bring about a state of perfection Friend kindly think of this We have had the terrible war in different parts of the world The second half remains to be fulfilled

Wanderings of a Spiritualist Arthur Conan Doyle,1921 This is an account of the wanderings of a spiritualist geographical and speculative Should the reader have no interest in psychic things if indeed any human being can be so foolish as not to be interested in his own nature and fate then this is the place to put the book down It were better also to end the matter now if you have no patience with a go as you please style of narrative which founds itself upon the conviction that thought may be as interesting as action and which is bound by its very nature to be intensely personal I write a record of what absorbs my mind which may be very different from that which appeals to yours But if you are content to come with me upon these terms then let us start with my apologies in advance for the pages which may bore you and with my hopes that some may compensate you by pleasure or by profit I write these lines with a pad upon my knee heaving upon the long roll of the Indian Ocean running large and grey under a grey streaked sky with the rain swept hills of Ceylon just one shade greyer lining the Eastern skyline So under many difficulties it will be carried on which may explain if it does not excuse any slurring of a style which is at its best but plain English There was one memorable night when I walked forth with my head throbbing and my whole frame quivering from the villa of Mr Southey at Merthyr Behind me the brazen glare of Dowlais iron works lit up the sky and in front twinkled the many lights of the Welsh town For two hours my wife and I had sat within listening to the whispering voices of the dead voices which are so full of earnest life and of desperate endeavours to pierce the barrier of our dull senses They had quivered and wavered around us giving us pet names sweet sacred things the intimate talk of the olden time Graceful lights signs of spirit power had hovered over us in the darkness It was a different and a wonderful world

The Best Supernatural Tales of Arthur Conan Doyle A. C. Doyle,2013-01-17 How often have I said to you that when you have eliminated the impossible whatever remains however improbable must be the truth Sherlock Holmes When Holmes wearied of mundane Victorian reality he reached for the cocaine his creator Doyle reached beyond reality to the occult mystery world as real to him as a hansom cab so real that it became part of his fiction It is no surprise that in the year A Study in Scarlet appeared 1887 this versatile writer was reading seriously in spiritualism attending sances and had already written some of the thrilling tales in this book The Best Supernatural Tales of Arthur Conan Doyle gathers together for the first time in an American edition the fifteen finest short stories in this genre by the master storyteller. Relative to his vast literary output, Doyle wrote comparatively few stories dealing specifically with spiritualism, Egyptian magic, psychometry, and other occult domains he knew so thoroughly, and these scattered stories skeptically dismissed or simply buried beneath the mass of his detective, historical, sports, medical, and other pieces have yet to receive their due as superior or typical examples of his narrative power. The polymath Doyle has recourse to many twilight borderline realms of the beyond in these stories which appeared in various periodicals from 1880 to 1921. The Bully of Brocas Court gives a new slant to the Victorian ghost story in one of Doyle's favorite settings, the world of boxing. The Captain of the Polestar recalls the weird northern backdrop of the author's whaling adventures. The Brown Hand deals in body-soul bondage with a touch of the East. Two hackle-raising histories, Lot No. 249 and The Ring of Thoth, depend on the riddle of Egyptian mummy lore. The Leather Funnel and The Silver Hatchet involve psychometry, a material object's retention of an aura or memory of its past which a sensitive being can replay through dreams. And then there is J. Habakuk Jephson's Statement, Doyle's speculative solution to the Marie Celeste conundrum which was vehemently denounced when published anonymously because it seemed so true and so terrible. Doyle readers, students of the occult, and anyone who loves an imaginative tale will wish to experience through these obscure, rarely reprinted stories what was personally so close to their author.
