web lab 12 ballistic pendulum experimental objectives to verify that the equations of conservation of momentum and conservation of mechanical energy give the same results as the equations of two dimensional motion by comparing the initial velocity the muzzle velocity of the ballistic projectile from two different sets of experimental measurements web theory a ballistic pendulum is a device that can be used to measure the speed of projectiles using both conservation of momentum and conservation of energy it contains a swinging pendulum and a spring gun the gun shoots out the projectile ball bearing into the bob creating an inelastic collision
