Helping Skills for Social Work Direct Practice

Jacqueline Corcoran, 2011-09-29 Direct practice foundation courses in social work prepare students for every step of the problem solving process yet too often emphasize the what and the why of practice at the expense of the how This practical easy to use and hands on guide bridges this gap by illustrating the helping skills that practitioners can actually use to influence people's lives in positive ways Integrating two major helping models motivational interviewing and solution focused therapy it equips students with the techniques and skills necessary for activating client strengths throughout the problem solving process Helping Skills for Social Work Direct Practice presents a wealth of sample dialogue exercises tips and do's and don'ts all designed to encourage learning by doing This workbook helps make the links between theory and practice with these unique features Chapters logically organized by phases of the problem solving process Case demonstrations involving a variety of roles including case manager crisis intervention counselor medical social worker and school social worker Practice exercises that prompt students to apply and generalize skills to different practice settings and client problems Exhibits and reflection questions facilitate integration between classroom learning and the internship experience An online instructor's manual www.oup.com/us/helpingskills with detailed answers to discussion questions From the first meeting with clients to assessment goal setting evaluation and the ethics that guide the process throughout this is the nuts and bolts guide to helping clients using a strengths based perspective

The Structural Approach to Direct Practice in Social Work

Gale Goldberg Wood, Ruth R. Middleman, 1989 Structural social work assumes that clients are adequate people in untenable situations The social worker must display active appreciation for the client's competence in telling about what does matter rather than what the practitioner thinks should matter
