Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature Leslie Barnes,2014-12-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam s position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature Intertextual Weaving in the Work of Linda Lê Alexandra Kurmann,2016-01-14

Fables of the Novel Warren F. Motte,2003 Readers of the contemporary novel in France are witnessing the most astonishing reinvigoration of narrative prose since the New Novel of the 1950s In the last few years bold innovative and richly compelling novels have been written by a variety of young writers These texts question traditional strategies of character plot theme and message and they demand new strategies of reading too Choosing ten novels published during the 1990s as examples of that trend Warren Motte traces the resurgence of the novel in France He argues that each of the novels under consideration here quite apart from what other stories it tells presents a fable of the novel that deals with the genre s possibilities limitations and future as a cultural form Translation Review ,1995 A
