Sweet Excess Ishita Dey, 2025-09-09 This book is an ethnographic work on excess. Based on a decade-long field work of a single food substance, sweets, it follows sweet making in sweetshops, domestic spaces, fairs, festivals, and its representation in recipe books to understand how caste, religion, science, and law inform the life of a food item with an extremely short shelf life. It shows how food items of conspicuous consumption find a meaning in everyday lives of people through its socio-cultural meanings, ritual, pride of craftsmanship, heritage, and cultural identity. It also shows how sweets continue to be a ubiquitous part of Bengali diet in a geography that has been witness to acute hunger, starvation, food movements, and social welfare programmes to ensure food security. As a multi-sited ethnography on sweetness in diverse settings and its associated meanings in West Bengal and Bangladesh, this book explores everyday workplace hierarchies between artisans that reveal how caste and religion inform the choice of who is hired into this line of work. It also highlights how discourses on food safety and the overpowering presence of World Trade Organization have affected the life of the Bengali mishti. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of ethnography, sociology, history, and South Asian studies. And if you dear reader love mishti, you will love this too.

Main Batata Hoon Shruti Shetty, 2024-02-15 How do you close a plastic bottle? Just turn the lid until you feel a slight resistance, right? But what if you are really angry when doing it? Or you are someone who is horrified of germs? You might twist the lid too much, expanding or cracking it, which defeats the purpose of the lid. Simply because of your mood or mindset. Now if you extend that example to our interactions with the world, you might start noticing how our views and beliefs, and our moods and behaviours unravel a cascade of counterintuitive consequences shaping the world in profound and perplexing ways with impacts far beyond the immediate moment. Main Batata Hoon explores such intricate webs of human views, mindsets, and behaviours through a fictional collection of everyday stories in conversational form. From the mundane to the extraordinary, these conversations unravel odd outlooks and curious ways in which we individuals navigate the intricate dance of social dynamics and life The title is a Hindi line I sometimes use to get a laugh out of people Because depending on how you say it it could either mean I will tell you or that I am a potato highlighting the greys that shape our world Through a behavioral lens Main Batata Hoon delves into the amusing thought provoking and sometimes bizarre facets of our human nature Brace yourself for a journey into the unexpected where our counterintuitiveness reveals the intricate tapestry of the human experience A Companion to the British and Irish Novel, 1945 - 2000 Brian W. Graham Swift's fiction brings together the perspectives of renowned Swift scholars from around the world. Authors look at the Swift's oeuvre from different interpretative angles combining a variety of critical and theoretical approaches. This book covers all of Swift's fiction including his novels and short stories; special emphasis however is on his most recent books. By approaching Swift's work from a number of perspectives, the volume offers a synthetic overview of his literary output. In particular, it searches for thematic and formal continuities between his early and more recent fiction and attempts to emphasize its new developments and interests. Novelists in the New Millennium Vanessa Guignery, 2012-11-19. A collection of interviews with leading writers such as Julian Barnes, Jonathan Coe, Kazuo Ishiguro, Hanif Kureishi, Arundhati Roy and Will Self. Through these interviews, the book explores and introduces a range of key themes in contemporary literature, raising questions about genre, history, postmodernism, celebrity culture and form. Conversations with Graham Swift Donald P. Kaczvinsky, 2020-06-04. Conversations with Graham Swift is the first collection of interviews conducted with the author of the Booker Prize-winning novel Last Orders. Beginning in 1985 with Swift's arrival in New York to promote Waterland and concluding with an interview from 2016 that appeared in the Sydney Morning Herald, the collection spans Swift's more than thirty-five year career as a writer. The volume also includes interviews first printed in English as well as translated from the French or Spanish and covers a wide range of formats from lengthier interviews published in standard academic journals to those for radio, newspapers and more recently podcasts. In these interviews, Graham Swift, b. 1949, offers insights into his life and career, including his friendships with other contemporary writers like Ted Hughes and the group of celebrated novelists who emerged in Britain during the eighties. With remarkable clarity, Swift discusses the themes of his novels and short stories: death, love, history, parent-child relationships, the power of the imagination, the role of storytelling and the consequences of knowing. He also notes the influences, literary and personal, that have helped shape his writing career. While quite ordinary in his life and daily habits, Swift reveals his penetrating intellect and rich imagination, an imagination that can craft some of the most engaging and formally complex stories in the language. 11th Conference on British and American Studies Marinela Burada, Raluca Sinu, Oana Tatu, 2015-01-12. The present volume includes a selection of twenty-nine papers by academics and senior and junior researchers who came together within the framework of the 11th Conference on British and American Studies. Structured into three sections, the contributions included here display a wide array of topics and methodologies illustrating a variety of scholarly pursuits and approaches. These in their turn reflect the issues which constitute the complex nature of language and culture and their mutual relationship. The authors' interests encompass aspects related to the structural and rhetorical organization of languages, approached both individually and cross-linguistically: first and second language acquisition, issues of translation and rendering considered from linguistic and cultural perspectives, and the cultural construction of meaning and identity as reflected in literature and art. You'll Ruin your Dinner: Sweet Memories from Irish childhood Damian Corless, 2011-11-17.
