Sweetness of the Struggle Reva Camiel, 1984 Searching for Sweetness Sarah Hanisch, 2022-03-11 Traversing from the rapidly urbanising county level city of Fuying to the remote mountainous kingdom of Lesotho in Southern Africa Searching for Sweetness is one of the first and most extensive ethnographies linking rural to urban migration in China with Chinese migration to Africa Against the backdrop of China's national struggle for modernity and globalisation Sarah Hanisch examines Chinese migrant women's complex and ever shifting struggles for upward social mobility across different generations and localities in China and Lesotho Embedding the women's individual portraits into larger historical contexts Hanisch illustrates how these women interpret and narrate their migratory and everyday experiences through and beyond powerful state metanarratives on sweetness and bitterness In her exploration of migratory identities and projects that have been overlooked by previous studies Hanisch brings uniquely gendered multi-sited and intergenerational perspectives to existing scholarship on Chinese internal and international migration This book is an important effort to connect Chinese migration to Africa to developments taking place in China Hanisch also explores various drivers of present day gendered migration and ongoing changes in the state's metanarratives surrounding development modernity and bitterness sweetness The deeply trusting relationships she was able to establish with her interlocutors make this book especially unique and valuable Yoon Jung Park Georgetown University This book tells us about Chinese migration to Africa beyond the state centred narratives we usually read in journalistic and academic accounts As a multi-sited ethnography it provides insights into the struggle of ten women between hope and desperation between success and defeat Searching for Sweetness is what drives these women and makes them tell their stories beyond and in constant dialogue with the state designed master narratives This is a must read for anyone who wishes to confront the complexity of today's globalised world Susanne Weigelin Schwiedrzik University of Vienna Shemoneh Esrei Zev Leff, 2008 The Sweetness and the Bitterness of the Prophet's Experience. A Sermon [on Rev. X. 10, 11], Etc Alexander MACKENNAL, 1865 The Unappeasable Shadow

Adele M. Dalsimer, 2016-09-13 Yeats and his shadow are one of the most closely scrutinised pairs in contemporary literary history. The meaning and significance Yeats gave to the entity by which he was constantly pursued and with which he held frequent colloquy have been held under the critical microscope and the shadow has emerged alternately as the course of human history, the poet's alter ego, his inner self, the natural man, or as anything that Yeats wanted but believed himself not to be. This title first published in 1988 examines the influence that Shelley had on Yeats and this shadow. The study concentrates primarily on the complex influence of Shelley's Alastor on Yeats, tracing the problems it suggests and the questions it raises from Yeats's early highly imitative poems through the austere unromantic middle poems to the late poems where Yeats sees himself as the last of the romantics. This title will be of interest to students of literature. Postcolonialism, Indigeneity and Struggles for Food Sovereignty

Marisa Wilson, 2016-10-04 This book explores connections between activist debates about food sovereignty and academic debates about alternative food networks. The ethnographic case studies demonstrate how divergent histories and geographies of people in place open up or close off possibilities for alternative sovereign food spaces, illustrating the globally uneven and varied development of industrial capitalist food networks and of everyday forms of subversion and accommodation. How, for example, do relations between alternative food networks and mainstream industrial capitalist food networks differ in places with contrasting histories of land appropriation, trade governance and consumer identities to those in Europe and non-indigenous spaces of New Zealand or the United States? How do indigenous populations negotiate between maintaining a sense of moral connectedness to their agri and acqua cultural landscapes and subverting or indeed appropriating industrial capitalist approaches to food? By delving into the histories, geographies and everyday worlds of post-colonial peoples, the book shows how colonial power relations of the past and present create more opportunities for some alternative producer-consumer and state-market-civil society relations than others. Sweet Excess Ishita

Dey, 2025-09-09 This book is an ethnographic work on excess. Based on a decade-long fieldwork of a single food substance, sweets, it follows sweet-making in sweetshops, domestic spaces, fairs, festivals and its representation in recipe books to understand how caste, religion, science and law inform the life of a food item with an extremely short shelf life. It shows how food items of conspicuous consumption find a meaning in everyday lives of people through its socio-cultural meanings, ritual, pride of craftsmanship, heritage and cultural identity. It also shows how sweets continue to be a ubiquitous part of Bengali diet in a geography that has been witness to acute hunger, starvation, food movements and social welfare programmes to ensure food security. As a multi-sited ethnography on sweetness in diverse settings and its associated meanings in West Bengal and Bangladesh, this book explores everyday workplace hierarchies between artisans that reveal how caste and religion inform the choice of who is hired into this line of work. It also highlights how discourses on food safety and the overpowering presence of World Trade Organization have affected the life of the Bengali mishti. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of ethnography, sociology, history and South Asian studies. And if you dear reader love mishti you will love this too Sweet, Smart, and Struggling Carmen Klassen, 2019-01-27 Single mom Carrie Bennet knows that her new home in a run down townhouse is a much better place than living with her cruel and controlling ex husband and she s determined to create a good life for herself and her two children With a budget so tight that one wrong move can leave her homeless the stress is overwhelming She s willing to do almost anything to get her head above water but with no experience and no degree her prospects are slim Her biggest chance comes from the most unlikely place the dumpster in the parking lot of her complex With creativity hard work and a little luck this might be the breakthrough she s been hoping for Sweet Smart and Struggling is the first in series featuring fun creative women who make their own rags to riches stories come true Get inspired find some new friends and escape with these feel good stories Start reading today

Cholleff, 2013-10-10 Neoliberalism Social Exclusion and Social Movements critically examines struggles for social justice in an era of neoliberal globalization Cholleff perceptively elucidates the intertwining of debt restructuring the debacle of privatization NAFTA generated distortions in the sugar market and social and economic exclusion of Mexican sugarcane growers and mill workers The enclosure of community commons is but one of the devastating impacts of neoliberal policies that generated social movements across Latin America and beyond Closure of one of Michoac n Mexico s five sugar mills following privatization brought unemployment and economic havoc to the region This region is unique in that it is the only locality where a social movement repossessed the closed sugar refinery and created a cooperative worker run workplace The book offers a historically contextualized globally situated and ethnographically grounded analysis of the social movement as sugarcane growers and mill workers challenged the end to their way of life as they knew it It takes the reader into the very real lives of movement participants their aspirations struggles and accommodations Cholleff skillfully peels back the layers of this social movement as activists sought to remake their own history but under circumstances that did not in the end ensure social justice The author demonstrates empathy for collective struggles confronting the ravages of neoliberal globalization yet explodes the myth that intuitively exalts social movements as morally noble forces for democratization and solidarity She offers a critical perspective on the internal factions and lack of democratization of a social movement gone awry and presents a sorely needed critique of social movement theory While focusing on a particular social movement this book carries wide applicability for all social movements concerned with social justice in an era of enduring neoliberalism It is essential reading for students academics activists and policy makers concerned with global inequalities My dear Struggles Keerthana
