Swiety Wojciech:

Emergent Elites and Byzantium in the Balkans and East-Central Europe Jonathan Shepard, 2024-10-28 According to Byzantium's leaders their imperial order anchored in Constantinople was the centre of excellence spiritual moral material and aesthetic They rewarded individuals willing to join and favoured outside groupings prepared to cooperate militarily or politically Interactions with outsiders varied over place and time complicated by the sometimes differing priorities of Byzantine churchmen and monks on or beyond Byzantium's borders These studies consider the dynamics of such interactions notably the interrelationship between the Bulgarians and their Byzantine neighbour The Bulgarians reaction to Byzantium ranged from contrarianism to the systematic adaptation of Byzantine religious orthodoxy ideals of rulership and normative values after Khan Boris acceptance of eastern Christianity For their part Byzantine rulers were readier to do business with their Bulgarian counterparts than official pronouncements let on occasionally even adopting aspects of Bulgarian political culture Byzantium's interrelationship with other ruling elites was less intensive but the process of Christianisation and the need to format this in readily comprehensible terms could make even distant potentates look to the template of effective Christian sole rulership which Byzantium's rulers embodied Hungarian and Rus leaders were of abiding geopolitical interest to imperial statecraft and the studies here show how during the generations around 1000 Byzantine political imagery resonated throughout the region

Women Archaeologists under Communism, 1917-1989 Florin Curta, Iurie Stamati, 2021-11-27 This book explores the uncharted territory of the history of archaeology under Communism through the biographies of five women archaeologists from the Soviet Union Bulgaria Romania Hungary and Poland They were working in medieval archaeology with a specific focus on the early Slavs The choice of specialists in medieval archaeology has much to do with the fact that in the five East European countries considered in this book medieval archaeology began to develop into a serious discipline less than a century ago. The main catalyst for the sudden rise of medieval archaeology was a dramatic shift in emphasis from traditional political and constitutional to social and economic history. In five countries the rise of medieval archaeology thus coincides in time and was ultimately caused by the imposition of Communist regimes. The five women were therefore true pioneers in their field and respective countries.
