The Sword and the Pen Konrad Eisenbichler, 2012-11-15 In The Sword and the Pen Women Politics and Poetry in Sixteenth Century Siena Konrad Eisenbichler analyzes the work of Sienese women poets in particular Aurelia Petrucci Laudomia Forteguerri and Virginia Salvi during the first half of the sixteenth century up to the fall of Siena in 1555 Eisenbichler sets forth a complex and original interpretation of the experiences of these three educated noblewomen and their contributions to contemporary culture in Siena by looking at the emergence of a new lyric tradition and the sonnets they exchanged among themselves and with their male contemporaries Through the analysis of their poems and various book dedications to them Eisenbichler reveals the intersection of poetry politics and sexuality as well as the gendered dialogue that characterized Siena's literary environment during the late Renaissance Eisenbichler also examines other little known women poets and their relationship to the cultural environment of Siena underlining the exceptional role of the city of Siena as the most important center of women's writing in the first half of the sixteenth century in Italy and probably in all of Europe This innovative contribution to the field of late Renaissance and early modern Italian and women's studies rescues from near oblivion a group of literate women who were celebrated by contemporary scholars but who have been largely ignored today both because of a dearth of biographical information about them and because of a narrow evaluation of their poetry Eisenbichler's analysis and reproduction of many of their poems in Italian and modern English translation are an invaluable contribution not only to Italian cultural studies but also to women's studies represented in this selection which the introduction places in the light not only of theorists like Althusser Bataille and Bakhtin but also of artists and writers such as Jean Genet and Robert Mapplethorpe Many of the essays take off from Marlowe's extreme dramatisations of arson cruelty and aggression suggesting why it is that the thinker who has been most convincingly applied to his theatre is the philosopher of punishment and pain Michel Foucault Others explore the exclusiveness of this all male universe and reveal why it remains so offensive and impenetrable to feminism For what they all make disturbingly clear is Marlowe's violent untamed difference from the clichés and correctness of normative society
