Islamic Coins and Their Values Volume 1 Tim Wilkes, 2015-10-31 Part 1 of a detailed reference work on Islamic coins This first volume focuses on the coins of the mediaeval period from the beginnings of Islam up to the 10th century AH 16th century AD The New Cambridge History of Islam: Volume 1, The Formation of the Islamic World, Sixth to Eleventh Centuries Chase F. Robinson, 2010-11-04 Volume One of The New Cambridge History of Islam which surveys the political and cultural history of Islam from its Late Antique origins until the eleventh century brings together contributions from leading scholars in the field The book is divided into four parts The first provides an overview of the physical and political geography of the Late Antique Middle East The second charts the rise of Islam and the emergence of the Islamic political order under the Umayyad and the Abbasid caliphs of the seventh eighth and ninth centuries followed by the dissolution of the empire in the tenth and eleventh Regionalism the overlapping histories of the empire's provinces is the focus of Part Three while Part Four provides a cutting edge discussion of the sources and controversies of early Islamic history including a survey of numismatics archaeology and material culture The Eastern Frontier Robert Haug, 2019-06-27 Transoxania Khurasan and Ukhraistan which comprise large parts of today's Central Asia have long been an important frontier zone In the late antique and early medieval periods the region was both an eastern political boundary for Persian and Islamic empires and a cultural border separating communities of sedentary farmers from pastoral nomads Given its peripheral location the history of the eastern frontier in this period has often been shown through the lens of expanding empires However in this book Robert Haug argues for a pre modern Central Asia with a discrete identity a region that is not just a transitory space or the far flung corner of empires but its own historical entity From this locally specific perspective the book takes the reader on a 900 year tour of the area from Sasanian control through the Umayyads and Abbasids to the quasi independent dynasties of the Tahirids and the Samanids Drawing on an impressive array of literary numismatic and archaeological sources Haug reveals the unique and varied challenges the eastern frontier presented to imperial powers that strove to integrate the area into their greater systems This is essential reading for all scholars working on early Islamic Iranian and Central Asian history as well as those with an interest in the dynamics of frontier regions Sylloge of Islamic Coins in the Ashmolean: Arabia and East Africa Stephen Album, Ashmolean Museum, 1999 Islamic History Through Coins Jere L. Bacharach, 2006 What can one discover through the study of medieval Islamic coins It appears that the regular gold dinars and silver dirhams issued by the Ikhshidid rulers of Egypt and Palestine 935-69 followed a series of understood but unwritten rules As the first part of this book reveals these norms involved whose names could appear on the regular currency where the names could be placed based upon a strict hierarchical order and even which parts of a Muslim name could be included The founder of the dynasty Muhammad ibn Tughj could use the honorific al Ikhshid his eldest son and successor could use his teknonym Abu al Qasim his brother the third ruler could use only his name Ali and the eunuch Kafur effective ruler of Egypt for over twenty years could never inscribe his name on the regular coinage At the same time each one of these rulers was named in the Friday sermon and most had their teknonym inscribed on textiles Presentation coins the equivalent of modern commemorative pieces could break all these rules and a wide variety of titles appeared as well as a series of coins with human representation The second half of the book is a catalogue of over 1 200 specimens enabling curators collectors and dealers to identify coins in their own collections and their relative rarity Throughout the book numismatic pieces are illustrated along with commentary on their inscriptions layout and metallic content Money, Power and Politics in Early Islamic Syria John Haldon, 2016-04-22 The transformation of the eastern provinces of the Roman empire from the middle of the seventh century CE under the impact of Islam has attracted a good deal of scholarly attention in recent years and as more archaeological material becomes available has been subject to revision and rethinking in ways that radically affect what we know or understand about the area about state building and the economy and society of the early Islamic world and about issues such as urbanisation town country relations the ways in which a different religious culture impacted on the built environment and about politics This volume represents the fruits of a workshop held at Princeton University in May 2007 to discuss the ways in which recent work has affected our understanding of the nature of economic and exchange activity in particular and the broader implications of these advances for the history of the region A Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture, 2 Volume Set Finbarr Barry Flood, Gulru Necipoglu, 2017-09-13 The two volume Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture bridges the gap between monograph and survey text by providing a new level of access and interpretation to Islamic art The more than 50 newly commissioned essays revisit canonical topics and include original approaches and scholarship on neglected aspects of the field This two volume Companion showcases more than 50 specially commissioned essays and an introduction that survey Islamic art and architecture in all its traditional grandeur Essays are organized according to a new chronological geographical paradigm that remaps the unprecedented expansion of the field and reflects the nuances of major artistic and political developments during the 1400 year span The Companion represents recent developments in the field and encourages future horizons by commissioning innovative essays that provide fresh perspectives on canonical subjects such as early Islamic art sacred spaces palaces urbanism ornament arts of the book and the portable arts while introducing others that have been previously neglected including unexplored geographies and periods transregional connectivities talismans and magic consumption and networks of portability museums and collecting and contemporary art worlds the essays entail strong comparative and historiographic dimensions The volumes are accompanied by a map and each subsection is preceded by a brief outline of the main cultural and historical developments during the period in question The volumes include periods and regions typically excluded from survey books including modern and contemporary art architecture China Indonesia Sub Saharan Africa Sicily the New World Americas Means of Exchange Dagfinn Skre, 2008-12-31 This second volume based on the excavations of the Viking town Kaupang 2000 2003 presents find types used in economic transactions coins hacksilver ingots weights and balances Changes in type and volume of economic transactions at Kaupang and in Scandinavia are discussed and the economic mentality of Viking crafts and tradesmen is explored Earlier the study of Viking silver currency was based mainly on hoards containing coins and hacksilver In this volume the combined study of the find types mentioned as well as the sophisticated chronology of settlements finds from sites like Kaupang gives a completely new insight into economy and exchange In the early 9th century silver and goods seem to have come to Kaupang mainly from the Carolingian world Silver weighed with locally produced lead weights was used as currency on a limited scale The old e unit was easily convertible to Carolingian units After the mid 9th century this early system was altered The increased availability of silver caused by the import of Islamic coins as well as the introduction in most of Scandinavia in the 860s 870s of standardized weights of probable Islamic origin paved the way from then on for an increasing use of silver as payment These studies demonstrate that sites like Kaupang led the way in economic development in Scandinavia The urban environment promoted an economic mentality which contributed significantly to the fundamental transformation of Scandinavian culture and society which culminated in the region's integration in Christian Europe in the High Middle Ages products of the Muslim community's idealisation of its history while others accept them at face value reasoning that if not exact versions of events the events could not have differed too much from their descriptions The author revisits the debate and reconsiders several key incidents in the life of the Prophet By compiling an extensive corpus of materials and comparing them closely this book analyses the transmission and the contents of the accounts It shows that by understanding clearly the interaction in early Islam between written and oral modes of transmission and by the judicious sieving of the accounts as well as the lines of transmission we can sometimes reach back to that generation of Muslims who though not themselves witness to the events were younger contemporaries of those who were Establishing a solid basis for the informed study of Muhammad's biography and adding to the ongoing debate this book will appeal to scholars of early Islam history and theology
