Symbolic Space French Enlightenment Architecture And Its Legacy:

Symbolic Space Richard A. Etlin, 1996-12-15 Richard A Etlin demonstrates how the conceptual basis of the modern house and the physical layout of the modern city emerged from debates among theoretically innovative French architects of the eighteenth century Examining a broad range of topics from architecture and urbanism to gardening and funerary monuments he reconsiders eighteenth century French architecture with regard to the ways in which it was informed by symbolic space This book provides an accessible introduction to a century of architecture that transformed the classical forms of the Renaissance and Baroque periods into building types still familiar today Art, Culture, and Media Under the Third Reich

Richard A. Etlin, 2002-10-15 This work explores the ways in which Nazi Germany used art and media to portray their country as a champion of Kultur and civilization Revealing how multiple domains of cultural activity served to conceptually dehumanize Jews this work shows how the seeds of the Holocaust were sown Geography and Enlightenment David N.

Livingstone, Charles W. J. Withers, 1999-12-15 Geography and Enlightenment explores both the Enlightenment as a geographical phenomenon and the place of geography in the Enlightenment From wide ranging disciplinary and topical perspectives contributors consider the many ways in which the world of the long eighteenth century was brought to view and shaped through map and text exploration and argument within and across spatial and intellectual borders The first set of chapters charts the intellectual and geographical contexts in which Enlightenment ideas began to form including both the sites in which knowledge was created and discussed and the different means used to investigate the globe Detailed explorations of maps created during this period show how these new ways of representing the world and its peoples influenced conceptions of the nature and progress of human societies while studies of the travels of people and ideas reveal the influence of far flung places on Enlightenment science and scientific credibility The final set of chapters emphasizes the role of particular local contexts in Enlightenment thought Contributors are Michael T Bravo Paul Carter Denis Cosgrove Stephen Daniels Matthew Edney Anne Marie Claire Godlewska Peter Gould Michael Heffernan David N Livingstone Dorinda Outram Chris Philo Roy Porter Nicolaas Rupke Susanne Seymour Charles Watkins and Charles W J Withers The Material Cultures of Enlightenment Arts and Sciences Adriana Craciun, 2016-08-24 In this book the eighteenth century Enlightenment receives an important reassessment using an astonishing range of materials and objects drawn from Europe and beyond including artefacts from India and China West Africa and Polynesia A series of authoritative essays written by experts in the field explores the full range of material culture in the long eighteenth century raising crucial questions about notions of property and invention homely and commercial lives The book also includes a series of well illustrated exhibits a startling and provocative assemblage of objects from the Enlightenment world each accompanied by expert commentaries The collection of essays and exhibits is the result of collaborative debate by scholars from Europe and north America who have together worked on the cross disciplinary importance of material history in making sense of how past society was fundamentally transformed through the world of goods Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings Jan Jennings, 2005 In 1879 Carpentry and Building magazine launched its first house design competition for a cheap house. Forty-two competitions, eighty-six winning designs, and a slew of near winners and losers resulted in a body of work that offers an entire history of architectural culture. The competitions represented a vital period of transition in delineating roles and responsibilities of architectural services and building trades. The contests helped to define the training, education, and values of practical architects and to solidify house planning ideals. The lives and work of ordinary architects who competed in Carpentry and Building contests offer a reinterpretation of architectural professionalization in this time period. Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings thoroughly explores the results of these competitions conducted over a thirty-year period from 1879 to 1909. The book outlines the philosophy behind and procedures developed for running the competitions, looks at characteristics of the eighty-six winners of the competitions, examines the nature of architectural practices during the period, analyzes the winning competition designs, and provides biographical details of competition winners and losers. A landmark book in architectural history, Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings makes a compelling case for the theory of convenient arrangement, its history, its role, its principles, its relationship to contemporary interior design, education, and its meaning to American architecture. More importantly, the book explains the impact of Carpentry and Building's contests in furthering the tenets of convenient arrangement for house design. By using extensive material from the magazine, Jennings leaves little doubt as to how important this overlooked story is to the history of American architecture as a whole.

The Pantheon, Revealing Architectural Design Philip D. Plowright, 2014-01-10 Revealing Architectural Design examines the architectural design process from the point of view of knowledge domains, domain syntax, coherence, framing, thinking styles, decision making, and testing. Using straightforward language, the book connects general design thinking to underlying frameworks that are used in the architectural design process. The book provides historical grounding as well as clear examples of real design outcomes. It includes diagrams and explanations to make that content accessible. The frameworks and their methods are described by what they can accomplish, what biases they introduce, and the use of their final outcomes. Revealing Architectural Design is an advanced primer useful to anyone interested in increasing the quality of their architectural design proposals through understanding the conceptual tools used to achieve that process. While it is intended for undergraduate and graduate students of architectural design, it will also be useful for experienced architectural practitioners. For the non-architect, this book opens a window into the priorities of a discipline seldom presented with such transparency.

Grief and Its Transcendence Adele Tutter, Léon Wurmser, 2015-09-16 Grief and Its Transcendence Memory, Identity, Creativity is a landmark contribution that provides fresh insights into the experience and process of mourning. It includes fourteen original essays by pre-eminent psychoanalysts, historians, classicists, theologians, architects, art historians, and artists that take on the subject of normal rather than pathological mourning. In particular, it considers the diversity of the mourning process, the bereavement of ordinary vs extraordinary loss the contribution of mourning to personal and creative growth and individual social and cultural means of transcending grief The book is divided into three parts each including two to four essays followed by one or two critical discussions Co editor Adele Tutter s Prologue outlines the salient themes and tensions that emerge from the volume Part I juxtaposes the consideration of grief in antiquity with an examination of the contemporary use of memorials to facilitate communal remembrance Part II offers intimate first person accounts of mourning from four renowned psychoanalysts that challenge long held psychoanalytic formulations of mourning Part III contains deeply personal essays that explore the use of sculpture photography and music to withstand mourn and transcend loss on individual cultural and political levels Drawing on the humanistic wisdom that underlies psychoanalytic thought co editor L on Wurmser s Epilogue closes the volume Grief and its Transcendence will be a must for psychoanalysts psychotherapists psychiatrists and scholars within other disciplines who are interested in the topics of grief bereavement and creativity Handbook of Research on Emerging Technologies for Architectural and Archaeological Heritage Ippolito, Alfonso, 2016-08-27 Cultural heritage is a vital multifaceted component of modern society To better protect and promote the integrity of a culture certain technologies have become essential tools The Handbook of Research on Emerging Technologies for Architectural and Archaeological Heritage is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly research on the use of technological assistance for the preservation of architecture and archaeology in a global context Focusing on various surveying technologies for the study analysis and protection of historical buildings this book is ideally designed for professionals researchers upper level students and practitioners Architecture, Death and Nationhood Hannah Malone, 2017-04-28 In the nineteenth century new cemeteries were built in many Italian cities that were unique in scale and grandeur and which became destinations on the Grand Tour From the Middle Ages the dead had been buried in churches and urban graveyards but in the 1740s a radical reform across Europe prohibited burial inside cities and led to the creation of suburban burial grounds Italy s nineteenth century cemeteries were distinctive as monumental or architectural structures rather than landscaped gardens They represented a new building type that emerged in response to momentous changes in Italian politics tied to the fight for independence and the creation of the nation state As the first survey of Italy s monumental cemeteries the book explores the relationship between architecture and politics or how architecture is formed by political forces As cities of the dead cemeteries mirrored the spaces of the living Against the backdrop of Italy s unification they conveyed the power of the new nation efforts to construct an Italian identity and conflicts between Church and state Monumental cemeteries helped to foster the narratives and mentalities that shaped Italy as a new nation The Imperfect City: On Architectural Judgment Samir Younes, 2016-03-03 If architectural judgment were a city a city of ideas and forms then it is a very imperfect city When architects judge the success or failure of a building the range of ways and criteria which can be used for this evaluation causes many contentious and discordant arguments Proposing that the increase in number and intensity of such arguments threatens to destabilize the very grounds upon which judgment is supposed to rest this book examines architectural judgment in its historical cultural political and psychological dimensions and their convergence on that most expressive part of architecture namely architectural character It stresses the value of reasoned judgment in justifying architectural form a judgment based on three sets of criteria those criteria that are external to architecture those that are internal to architecture and those that pertain to the psychology of the architect as image maker External criteria include philosophies of history or theories of modernity internal criteria include architectural character and architectural composition while the psychological criteria pertain to mimetic rivalry or rivaling desires for the same architectural forms Yet although architectural conflicts can adversely influence judgment they can at the same time contribute to the advancement of architectural culture

Chinese Architecture and the Beaux-Arts Jeffrey W. Cody, Nancy Shatzman Steinhardt, Tony Atkin, 2011-01-31 In the early twentieth century Chinese traditional architecture and the French derived methods of the cole des Beaux Arts converged in the United States when Chinese students were given scholarships to train as architects at American universities whose design curricula were dominated by Beaux Arts methods Upon their return home in the 1920s and 1930s these graduates began to practice architecture and create China's first architectural schools often transferring a version of what they had learned in the U S to Chinese situations The resulting complex series of design related transplantations had major implications for China between 1911 and 1949 as it simultaneously underwent cataclysmic social economic and political changes After 1949 and the founding of the People's Republic China experienced a radically different wave of influence from the Beaux Arts through advisors from the Soviet Union who first under Stalin and later Khrushchev brought Beaux Arts ideals in the guise of socialist progress In the early twenty first century China is still feeling the effects of these events Chinese Architecture and the Beaux Arts examines the coalescing of the two major architectural systems placing significant shifts in architectural theory and practice in China within relevant contemporary cultural and educational contexts Fifteen major scholars from around the world analyze and synthesize these crucial events to shed light on the dramatic architectural and urban changes occurring in China today many of which have global ramifications This stimulating and generously illustrated work is divided into three sections framed by an introduction and a postscript The first focuses on the convergence of Chinese architecture and the cole des Beaux Arts outlining the salient aspects of each and suggesting how and why the two met in the U S The second section centers on the question of how Chinese architects were influenced by the Beaux Arts and how Chinese architecture was changed as a result The third takes an even closer look at the Beaux Arts influence addressing how innovative practices new schools of architecture and buildings whose designs were linked to Beaux Arts assumptions led to distinctive new paradigms that were rooted in a changing China By virtue of its scope scale and scholarship this volume promises to become a classic in the fields of Chinese and Western architectural history Contributors Tony Atkin Peter J Carroll Yung Ho Chang Jeffrey W Cody Kerry Sizheng Fan Fu Chao Ching Gu Daqing Seng

Kuan Delin Lai Xing Ruan Joseph Rykwert Nancy S Steinhardt David VanZanten Rudolf Wagner Zhang Jie Zhao Chen The Art Museum from Boullée to Bilbao Andrew McClellan, 2008-01-02 Art museums cases of beauty and calm in a fast paced world have emerged in recent decades as the most vibrant and popular of all cultural institutions But as they have become more popular their direction and values have been contested as never before This engaging thematic history of the art museum from its inception in the eighteenth century to the present offers an essential framework for understanding contemporary debates as they have evolved in Europe and the United States Designing Memory Sabina Tanović, 2019-11-28 This innovative study of memorial architecture investigates how design can translate memories of human loss into tangible structures creating spaces for remembering Using approaches from history psychology anthropology and sociology Sabina Tanović explores purposes behind creating contemporary memorials in a given location their translation into architectural concepts their materialisation in the face of social and political challenges and their influence on the transmission of memory Covering the period from the First World War to the present she looks at memorials such as the Holocaust museums in Mechelen and Drancy as well as memorials for the victims of terrorist attacks to unravel the private and public role of memorial architecture and the possibilities of architecture as a form of agency in remembering and dealing with a difficult past The result is a distinctive contribution to the literature on history and memory and on architecture as a link to the past Architectural Space in Eighteenth-Century Europe Meredith Martin, 2017-07-05 Architectural Space in Eighteenth Century Europe Constructing Identities and Interiors explores how a diverse pan European group of eighteenth century patrons among them bankers bishops bluestockings and courtesans used architectural space and décor to shape and express identity Eighteenth century European architects understood the client's instrumental role in giving form and meaning to architectural space In a treatise published in 1745 the French architect Germain Boffrand determined that a visitor could judge the character of the master for whom the house was built by the way in which it is planned decorated and distributed This interdisciplinary volume addresses two key interests of contemporary historians working in a range of disciplines one the broad question of identity formation most notably as it relates to ideas of gender class and ethnicity and two the role played by different spatial environments in the production not merely the reflection of identity at defining historical and cultural moments By combining contemporary critical analysis with a historically specific approach the book's contributors situate ideas of space and the self within the visual and material remains of interiors in eighteenth century Europe In doing so they offer compelling new insight not only into this historical period but also into our own St. Peter's in the Vatican William Tronzo, 2005-08-29 This volume presents an overview of St Peter's history from the late antique period to the twentieth century Henry Hobson Richardson and the Small Public Library in America Kenneth A. Breisch, 1997 An examination of Richardson's small public libraries that places them in the design cultural political and economic contexts of their times Making Modern Paris Christopher Curtis Mead, 2012 Investigates how architecture technology politics and

urban planning came together in French architect Victor Baltard's creation of the Central Markets of Paris. Presents a case study of the historical process that produced modern Paris between 1840 and 1870 Designing the City of Reason Ali Madanipour, 2007-04-11 With a practical approach to theory Designing the City of Reason offers new perspectives on how differing belief systems and philosophical approaches impact on city design and development exploring how this has changed before during and after the impact of modernism in all its rationalism. Looking at the connections between abstract ideas and material realities this book provides a social and historical account of ideas which have emerged out of the particular concerns and cultural contexts and which inform the ways we live. By considering the changing foundations for belief and action and their impact on urban form it follows the history and development of city design in close conjunction with the growth of rationalist philosophy. Building on these foundations it goes on to focus on the implications of this for urban development exploring how public infrastructures of meaning are constructed and articulated through the dimensions of time space meaning value and action. With its wide ranging subject matter and distinctive blend of theory and practice this book furthers the scope and range of urban design by asking new questions about the cities we live in and the values and symbols which we assign to them Planning Latin America's Capital Cities 1850-1950 Arturo Almandoz, 2002-08-08 In this first comprehensive work in English to describe the building of Latin America's capital cities in the postcolonial period Arturo Almandoz and his contributors demonstrate how Europe and France in particular shaped their culture architecture and planning until the United States began to play a part in the 1930s. The book provides a new perspective on international planning.
