Developmental Tasks in Adolescence Klaus Hurrelmann, Gudrun Quenzel, 2018-11-08 The topic of adolescent development in Europe is one which has received little academic attention in recent years Developmental Tasks in Adolescence makes an exciting contribution to the field by applying socialisation theory to four major developmental tasks of life Qualifying Bonding Consumption and Participation arguing that if the tasks in these areas are mastered then personal individuation and social integration can take place a prerequisite for the formation of self identity In highly developed societies adolescence encompasses a period of about 15 years on average Puberty or the transition from childhood starts earlier and earlier and the transition to adulthood is increasingly postponed Developmental Tasks in Adolescence proposes that the way in which adolescents master the tasks of everyday life has become a pattern of orientation for the life stages which follow because of the new lifestyle requirements that are typical for modern democratic societies Today a life full of uncertainties and ambiguities is no longer limited to adolescence but rather continues into adulthood Hurrelmann and Quenzel's sociological approach is valuable reading for students and academics in psychology sociology education social work and youth studies and for those on professional training courses in these fields Rationality, Humility, and Spirituality in Christian Life

Dennis Hiebert, 2020-02-27 As Euro American culture turns resolutely away from religiosity toward spirituality and becomes increasingly post Christian the ordinary everyday practice of Christian life is ever more questioned and in need of scrutiny In this interdisciplinary analysis Christians are first called to comprehend the excessive rationality that modernity has built into both the cognitive and organizational structure of contemporary Christian life They are then summoned to personify an authentic attitude of humility and in particular the virtue of intellectual humility that is most challenged and tested by religious convictions Going forward Christians are subsequently invited to live their faith more as an internally differentiated and open spirituality rather than an externally determined and regulated religiosity When we exhaust our rationality and are confronted with its limitations we are humbled by our finitude and animated by our spirituality Confession and
