The New Male:

The New Male Sexuality Bernie Zilbergeld, 1999-07-06 The New Male Sexuality addresses the most urgent questions of men today and of the women who love them Bernie Zilbergeld reports findings from his twenty years as a psychologist specializing in human sexuality as well as those other experts in the field and shares his own and his clients experiences the result is the most comprehensive guide ever to enhancing desire and arousal focusing on pleasure rather than performance and keeping sex exciting and fulfilling Clear comprehensive witty and refreshingly realistic The New Male Sexuality is destined to be a classic of the nineties and beyond Summary of Bernie Zilbergeld's The New Male Sexuality Everest Media, 2022-05-22T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 Men in our culture walk a thin line They must be sure their behavior conforms to what is considered manly but they also must be sensitive and emotionally expressive This has become more difficult than ever before 2 The training given to boys and girls is different and has a significant influence on how they behave as adults While we may not be able to completely undo a genetic disposition we can shape it to some extent 3 The training of masculinity in boys begins at a young age and continues through their lives By the age of six or seven they have already learned lessons about being male They will not cry and they may not even be able to ask for directions when they re lost 4 The primary focus of males and females is very different Connection to others is the name of the game for females of all ages even in their play Men on the other hand learn that the primary thing in life is doing or performing in the world out there not in the family in here The New Male Herb Goldberg, 2001-07

The New Male Female Relationship Herb Goldberg, 2000 In this ground breaking work Goldberg shows how traditional relationships are doomed to fail not because of personal inadequacies but because of the psychological defense mechanisms that program men to behave like machines and women like children Goldberg offers a total reevaluation of the war between the sexes in light of the enormous changes the woman s liberation movement has brought about in the last several decades Immensely hopeful in its outlook the book gives us a vision of just how good a relationship can be when men and women are friends and companions as well as lovers Book jacket The Fate of the New Man Claire McCallum, 2018-07-03 Between 1945 and 1965 the catastrophe of war and the social and political changes it brought in its wake had a major impact on the construction of the Soviet masculine ideal Drawing upon a wide range of visual material The Fate of the New Man traces the dramatic changes in the representation of the Soviet man in the postwar period It focuses on the two identities that came to dominate such depictions in the two decades after the end of the war the Soviet man s previous role as a soldier and his new role in the home once the war was over In this compelling study Claire McCallum focuses on the reconceptualization of military heroism after the war the representation of contentious subjects such as the war damaged body and bereavement and postwar changes to the depiction of the Soviet man as father McCallum shows that it was the Second World War rather than the process of de Stalinization that had the greatest impact on the masculine ideal proving that even under the constraints of Socialist Realism the physical and emotional devastation caused by the war was too great to go unacknowledged The Fate of the New Man makes an important contribution to Soviet masculinity studies McCallum's research also contributes to broader debates surrounding the impact of Stalin's death on Soviet society and on the nature of the subsequent Thaw as well as to those concerning the relationship between Soviet culture and the realities of Soviet life This fascinating study will appeal to scholars and students of Soviet history masculinity studies and visual culture studies

The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell, Nikolai Kremontsov, 2021-12-02 The idea that morally mentally and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals leaders and reformers throughout history This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind

The New Woman's Film Hilary Radner, 2017-01-20 With the chick flick arguably in decline film scholars may well ask what has become of the woman's film Little attention has been paid to the proliferation of films often from the independent sector that do not sit comfortably in either the category of popular culture or that of high art films that are perhaps the corollary of the middle brow novel or smart chick flicks This book seeks to fill this void by focusing on the steady stream of films about and for women that emerge out of independent American and European cinema and that are designed to address an international female audience The new woman's film as a genre includes narratives with strong ties to the woman's film of classical Hollywood while constituting a new distinctive cycle of female centered films that in many ways continue the project of second wave feminism albeit in a modified form Topics addressed include The Bridges of Madison County Clint Eastwood 1995 the feature length films of Nicole Holofcener 1996 2013 the film roles of Tilda Swinton Rachel Getting Married Jonathan Demme 2008 Blue Jasmine Woody Allen 2013 Frances Ha Noah Baumbach 2012 Belle Amma

American Masculinity Under Clinton Brenton J. Malin, 2005 Whereas many of the men of Reagan s 80s seemed stereotypically hypermasculine a host of 90s images suggest a new phase of more sensitive manhood In the Clinton era both academic and popular writers suggested that a crisis of masculinity had taken root one that had men questioning traditional male ideas and seeking new identities This book explores the conflicted ways in which this seemingly new climate of masculinity was negotiated From Bill Clinton to The Promise Keepers and Titanic to Friends a host of 90s heroes put this rhetoric of crisis to work to win elections audience members and ratings Greek and English Lexicon of the New
