Unexpected circumstances led him to Basutoland present day Lesotho where he struck up an unfailing friendship based on mutual trust and esteem with the Sotho King Moshoeshoe In addition to his missionary task Casalis transcribed the language and contributed largely to the economic development of the country while concurrently supporting the King in his efforts to convince the British to help him fight Boer expansionism He gave invaluable diplomatic aid and advice to the King during the 23 years he spent in the country Back in France in 1855 he became the director of the House of Missions where he trained a number of young men to become missionaries His eldest son became a missionary to Lesotho and his eldest daughter married a missionary with whom she returned to Lesotho where she brought up a large family All this has contributed to making the name of Casalis well known in the Kingdom to this day To a certain extent Lesotho's accession to independence in 1966 can be perceived as a distant result of Casalis's work The present King Letsie III is a direct descendant of King Moshoeshoe
