Sit Down And Shut Up An Educators Memoir:

Autobiography in Education Thomas Lovell, 1928 The Memoirs of a Young Bastard Tim Burstall, 2012

Tim Burstall the celebrated director of Stork, Alvin Purple and numerous other definitive ocker comedies is credited with shaking the moribund Australian film industry out of its torpor. But long before that in the early 1950s he began keeping a diary to record the world of the group of artists and intellectuals he was living among in Eltham then a rural area outside Melbourne where cheap land was available for mudbrick houses and studios and where suburban rigidities could be mercilessly flouted. Burstall was in his mid twenties with two young sons and an open marriage with his wife Betty Eager to become a writer to go against the grain he kept a record almost daily of the parties and the talk in pubs and studios about art and politics and sex of Communist Party branch meetings and film societies of political rallies and the first Herald Outdoor Art Show. Somehow while holding down a public relations job in the Antarctic Division and juggling his love affairs and obsession with the beautiful brainy Fay he wrote 500 words almost every day. Betty according to the diaries kept the show on the road feeding friends after the pub milking goats and working in her pottery making bowls and mugs which Tim sometimes decorated at weekends. These Memoirs of a Young Bastard as Burstall dubbed himself and them are among the most evocative Australian diaries of modern times. Burstall can write. He has an eye for the telling detail an unerring ear for cant and pomposity and most endearingly an ability to mock himself always from the perspective of a bloke of his generation.

Memoirs of a Middle School Teacher Patricia Patrick Marr,2022-11-03 Middle schoolers are interesting creatures Teaching them was both challenging and fulfilling Sixth grade in my opinion is the most difficult grade to teach Too many times to count mothers claimed that their child had never done that before I learned to respond That s because he wasn t in the sixth grade before As hard as it was at times as I look back on my days in middle school I can reminisce with a chuckle at most of their antics Too often though it was I who said or did something foolish in the heat of the moment If I had kept notes I could have filled hundreds of pages with the comical things that happened in the middle grades Instead these are my memories
