Packaging Girlhood Sharon Lamb, Lyn Mikel Brown, 2025-06-25 The stereotype laden message delivered through clothes music books and TV is essentially a continuous plea for girls to put their energies into beauty products shopping fashion and boys This constant marketing cheapening of relationships absence of good women role models and stereotyping and sexualization of girls is something that parents need to first understand before they can take action Lamb and Brown teach parents how to understand these influences give them guidance on how to talk to their daughters about these negative images and provide the tools to help girls make positive choices about the way they are in the world In the tradition of books like Reviving Ophelia Odd Girl Out Queen Bees and Wannabees that examine the world of girls this book promises to not only spark debate but help parents to help their daughters The Self on the Shelf Gary Greenberg, 1994-08-04 The Self on the Shelf examines the cultural and philosophical determinants of popular recovery books Greenberg argues that this literature can be read as documents of the prevailing understanding of the self in American society The construction of the self promoted by recovery literature is seen as a nihilistic one insofar as it denies the significance of what continental philosophy calls the Other In this sense the self help books are correct in their assertion that we have lost sight of how to love but their proposed solution shows up as a recapitulation and strengthening of the conditions that gave rise to this situation in the first place Greenberg's critique provides a commentary on the difficulties that face our culture in achieving any sense of meaningful community and on the way that this problem surfaces in a highly popular discourse The Personal of the Political Marek Wojtaszek, Elżbieta H. ideologies in Europe long lasting societal remnants of the economic breakdown and the neoliberalist consolidation of capitalist values it is ethically relevant to critically reconceptualise the meaning and role of European feminisms and the challenges they have to confront today both locally and transnationally In the face of ubiquitous beliefs about feminism having exhausted itself such a rethinking of the place and priorities of feminist politics within and outside academia is urgently needed The popularization of the so called faux feminisms assuming attained emancipation in the present day neoliberal environment of advanced capitalism calls for close examination and creative counter strategies Bearing in mind that the patterns of oppression still prevail becoming even more and more insidious and complex it is all the more necessary to identify scrutinize and contest the vicissitudes of the dominant apparatus of control and subjugation and to demystify the purportedly gender inclusive operations of the regime As such the book seeks to renew an academic and political interest in the epistemological tradition of context created knowledge Bringing together authors from diverse geopolitical locations this volume constitutes a forum for fruitful encounters across generations and national and cultural differences contributing to a better understanding of the complexities of patriarchal ideologies and to the creation of a more sustainable communal future The book offers a collection of chapters introducing situated perspectives which adopt intersectional optics in order to analyze the transformations of the contemporary socio political realm and reflect research priorities within present day feminist scholarship

Sexuality and the Sacred James B. Nelson, Sandra P. Longfellow, 1994-01-01 This volume is rooted in two convictions first sexuality is far more comprehensive and more fundamental to our existence than simply genital sex and second sexuality is intended by God to be neither incidental nor detrimental to our spirituality but a fully integrated and basic dimension of that spirituality The authors address what our sexual experience reveals about God the ways we understand the gospel and the ways we read scripture and tradition and attempt to live faithfully
