Alumi's Letters to Montgomery Clift Despite many antagonistic forces these works protagonists achieve a revolutionary form of narrative centrality through the defiant act of speaking out recounting their survival plots and enduring to the very last page These feats are made possible through their construction of alternative social structures Sohn calls inscrutable belongings Collectively the texts that Sohn examines bring to mind foundational struggles for queer Asian North Americans and other socially marginalized groups and confront a broad range of issues including interracial desire the AIDS HIV epidemic transnational mobility and postcolonial trauma In these texts Asian North American queer people are often excluded from normative family structures and must contend with multiple histories of oppression erasure and physical violence involving homophobia racism and social death Sohn's work makes clear that for such writers and their imagined communities questions of survival kinship and narrative development are more than representational they are directly tied to lived experience MultiCultural Review ,2006 Remapping Energopolitics Abhisek Ghosal,2024-06-17 Emerging concerns and contexts of geological thinking seek to bring out how energopolitical interventions into the geokinetic unfolding of the Earth assume new dimensions and directions owing to the complex and evolving intersections between folds and fluxes of energy in the context of oceans Written in negotiation with the notion of energopolitics articulated by Dominic Boyer Remapping Energopolitics calls for ruling out any epistemic attempt to structure the rhizomatic movements of energy through the transformations of oceans Aiming to delve deeper into the complex junctures among energy ocean and earth ing epistemic ends of Blue Humanities are reworked with the help of geophilosophical reading of some Sri Lankan minor writings and in doing so Remapping Energopolitics makes a series of attempts to reconceptualize energy thinking in line with the differential and deterritorial grammar of Deleuze Guattarian micropolitics thereby offering a critique of the structured and stratified understandings of energy linkages
