Timberg,Robert J. Erler,2010-01-01 A CHOICE Outstanding

Academic Book Flip through the channels at any hour of the day or night and a television talk show is almost certainly on. Whether it offers late night entertainment with David Letterman, share your pain empathy with Oprah Winfrey, trash talk with Jerry Springer or intellectual give and take with Bill Moyers, the talk show is one of television's most popular and enduring formats with a history as old as the medium itself. Bernard Timberg here offers a comprehensive history of the first fifty years of television talk, replete with memorable moments from a wide range of classic talk shows as well as many of today's most popular programs. Dividing the history into five eras, he shows how the evolution of the television talk show is connected to both broad patterns in American culture and the economic, regulatory, technological and social history of the broadcasting industry. Robert E. Rerick's A Guide to Television Talk complements the text with an extensive who's who listing of important people and programs in the history of television talk.

Women Pioneers in Television Cary O'Dell, 1997-01-01 Profiles such as notable women as Lucille Ball, Faye Emerson, Betty Furness, Lucy Jarvis, Ida Lupino and Betty White.

Great American Sitcoms of the 1950s Jackson Upperco, 2025-01-27 With a unique definition of the classic situation comedy television genre as developed out of its history on radio, this critical study highlights the best American sitcoms from the 1950s. TV's first decade as a household medium. Everything from I Love Lucy to Dobie Gillis is covered with a rigorous evaluation that seeks to find this formative era's finest episodic samples that most prove the sitcom's inherent artistry.

Science on American Television Marcel Chotkowski, 2024-05-31 As television emerged as a major cultural and economic force, many imagined that the medium would enhance civic education for topics like science. And indeed, television soon offered a breathtaking banquet of scientific images and ideas, both factual and fictional. Mr. Wizard performed experiments with milk bottles. Viewers watched live coverage of solar eclipses and atomic bomb blasts. Television cameras followed astronauts to the moon. Carl Sagan took us through the Cosmos and Jane Goodall into the jungle. Via electrons and embryos, blood testing and blasting caps, fictional Frankensteins and chatty Nobel laureates, television opened windows onto the world of science. But what promised to be a wonderful way of presenting science to huge audiences turned out to be a disappointment, argues historian Marcel Chotkowski. LaFollette in Science on American Television. LaFollette narrates the history of science on television from the 1940s to the turn of the twenty-first century to demonstrate how disagreements between scientists and television executives inhibited the medium's potential to engage in meaningful science education. In addition to examining the content of shows, she also explores audience and advertiser responses, the role of news in engaging the public in science and the making of scientific celebrities. Lively and provocative, Science on American Television establishes a new approach to grappling with the popularization of science in the television age when the medium's ubiquity and influence shaped how science was presented and the scientific community had increasingly less control over what appeared on the air.

Pioneers of "B" Television

Richard Irvin,2022-11-11 As television grew more enticing for both viewers and filmmakers in the 1950s several independent film producers with knowledge of making low cost films and radio shows transferred their skills to producing shows for the small screen Rather than funding live programs that were popular at the time these producers saw the value in pre taped shows which created large financial returns through episode reruns This low cost high yield production model resulted in what are known and beloved as B television shows Part historical account and part filmography this book documents the careers of over a dozen B television producers It chronicles the rise of situation comedies and crime dramas and explores the minds behind popular shows like My Little Margie The Lone Ranger Lassie Highway Patrol and Sea Hunt Divided into 14 chapters of producer profiles this work is rich in both trivia and critical assessments of the first years of television A chapter detailing the work of early female television producers rounds out the text

Stay Tuned Christopher Sterling, John Michael Kittross, 2001-11-01

Since its initial publication in 1978 Stay Tuned has been recognized as the most comprehensive and useful single volume history of American broadcasting and electronic media available. This third edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to bring the story of American broadcasting forward to the 21st century, affording readers not only the history of the most important and pervasive institution affecting our society but also providing a contextual transition to the Internet and other modern media. The enthusiasm of authors Christopher H. Sterling and John Michael Kittross is apparent as they lead readers through the development of American electronic mass media from the first electrical communication telegraph and telephone through radio and television to the present convergence of media business entities, programming, and delivery systems, including the Internet. Their presentation is engaging as well as informative, promoting an interest in history and making the connections between the developments of yesterday and the industry of today. Features of this third edition include chronological and topical tables of contents, new material reflecting modern research in the field, a new chapter describing historical developments from 1988 through to the current day, an expanded bibliography including Web site and museum listings, an updated and expanded glossary and chronology, and extensive statistical data of the development of television and radio stations, networks, advertising, programming, audiences, and other aspects of broadcasting. Designed for use in undergraduate and graduate courses on the history of American mass media, broadcasting, and electronic media, Stay Tuned also fits well into mass communication survey courses as an introduction to electronic media topics. As a chronicle of American broadcasting, this volume is also engaging reading for anyone interested in old radio, early television, and the origins and development of American broadcasting.

In the Eye of the Beholder Gary Richard Edgerton, Michael T. Marsden, John G. Nachbar, 1997. Scholars from communication studies as well as film and television studies address a variety of texts from Ken Burns's The Civil War to the midnight cult film The Rocky Horror Picture Show. Part one focuses on perennial subject areas related to authorship and reception; Part two addresses an assortment of postmodern and multicultural screen representations, paying closest attention to matters of gender, race, ethnicity, and the disabled.
