The Natural Law Of Race Relations:

Confronting the American Dilemma of Race Robert E. Washington, Donald Cunnigen, 2002 Confronting the American Dilemma of Race consists of twelve articles written by six authors about the second generation African American sociologists who embarked on their sociological careers between 1930 and 1950 when American society was embedded in a racial caste system From the perspective of the sociology of knowledge these articles through examining the life experiences and works of these African American sociologists reveal important insights into the impact of racial segregation on the development of both black sociology and the sociology of race relations

Theology and Race Relations Joseph T. Leonard, 1963 A stark and undramatic presentation of the basic principles of Catholic moral theology and an application of these principles to areas of interracial behaviour Stresses the function and necessity of charity in resolving this problem

Charles N. Hunter and Race Relations in North Carolina John H. Haley, 2014-07-02 Charles N Hunter one of North Carolina's outstanding black reformers was born a slave in Raleigh around 1851 and he lived there until his death in 1931 As public school teacher journalist and historian Hunter devoted his long life to improving opportunities for blacks A political activist but never a radical he skillfully used his journalistic abilities and his personal contacts with whites to publicize the problems and progress of his race He urged blacks to ally themselves with the best of the white leaders and he constantly reminded whites that their treatment of his race ran counter to their professed religious beliefs and the basic tenets of the American liberal tradition By carefully balancing his efforts Hunter helped to establish a spirit of passive protest against racial injustice John Haley's compelling book largely based on Hunter's voluminous papers affords a unique opportunity to view race relations in North Carolina through the eyes of a black man It also provides the first continuous survey of the black experience in the state from the end of the Civil War to the Great Depression an account that critiques the belief that race relations were better in North Carolina than in other southern states

The Sociology of Race Relations Thomas F. Pettigrew, 1980-03 These readings chronicle the triumphs and failures of race relations in our nation unfolding the tensions and struggles of racial conflict through the analyses of sociologists writing since the late nineteenth century The forty five articles gathered here are drawn from four of the most respected journals in the field American Journal of Sociology American Sociological Review Social Forces and Social Problems Together they document the problem of the color line providing for various eras the contemporary rationale for the status quo as well as farsighted calls for change Thus the readings reveal how sociological thought reflected racial tensions in this century while simultaneously serving as a force for reform The Sociology of Race Relations covers seven historical periods each introduced by an incisive discussion of the racial milieu of the time It begins with the era of Jim Crow laws and the great black migration from the South and proceeds to the reappearance of the Ku Klux Klan in the 20s the Depression years the Japanese American internment during the Second World War the deceptively quiet 50s that culminated in the civil rights movement of the 60s It concludes with a look at desegregation in the 70s the aftermath of the policies of the preceding decade Although the majority of selections deal with the problems of black Americans articles on Mexican Americans and Japanese Americans as well as on prejudice in general broaden the scope of the book The editor's introduction places the entire volume in historical and sociological context A time capsule for viewing race relations and the development of sociological understanding of race relations The Sociology of Race Relations illustrates two of the discipline's major contributions to American life its ability to heighten our sensitivity to unnoticed relationships and to debunk simplistic beliefs

The Natural Law of Race Relations Laszlo F. Thomay, 2011-12-01 An overview of race relations around the world reveals that conflict commonly arises when communities of different racial and cultural origin attempt to live together in sizable numbers within the same state CONTENTS INCLUDE South Africa an Exercise in Futility East Africa Nightmare for Asians Nigeria A Cauldron of Nations Belgium 150 Years of Conflict the Jewish Problem in Europe Switzerland Geographically Separate and Cordial Blacks in Canada Relations at a Low Point Burundi A Horror Show Good fences mean peace but massive migration of disparate peoples leads to tension and conflict

The ^ADecline of Natural Law Stuart Banner, 2021-04-01 In The Decline of Natural Law Stuart Banner explores a fundamental change in the way American lawyers thought about the law Until the late 19th century lawyers understood the law in part as something found in nature the way we think of scientific laws today After the change by contrast lawyers understood the law as something entirely made by people especially by judges The book explains the reasons for this change and how it affected the legal system

Race Matters Anne-Marie Mooney Cotter, 2016-05-23 Exploring the key legal issues in combating race discrimination Race Matters provides readers with a detailed understanding of the issue of inequality At its heart is an aim to increase the likelihood of achieving racial equality at both the national and international levels in so doing it examines the primary role of legislation and its impact on the court process It also discusses the two most important trade agreements of our day the North American Free Trade Agreement and the European Union Treaty in a historical and compelling analysis of racial discrimination By providing a detailed examination of the relationship between race and the law the book will be an important resource for those concerned with equality
