The Mystical And Political Dimension Of The Christian Faith Concilium:

Mystical and Political Dimension of the Christian Faith Claude Geffre, 1983-07-01 The Mystical and Political Dimension of the Christian Faith Claude Geffré, Gustavo Gutiérrez, 1974 A Theology of Conversation Stephen Okey, 2018-10-10

Sometimes described as a theologian's theologian David Tracy's scholarship has impacted countless thinkers around the globe. The complexity of his thought however has often made engaging his work into a daunting challenge. Combining analysis of the most influential features of Tracy's theology, theological method, the religious classic public theology with a retrieval of his more overlooked interests, Christology, God, Stephen Okey presents the essential themes of Tracy's career in accessible and insightful prose. Emmanuel Levinas' Conceptual Affinities with Liberation Theology Alain Mayama, 2010

Emmanuel Levinas' Conceptual Affinities with Liberation Theology analyzes Levinas' work in relation to two important liberation theologians, Gustavo Gutiérrez and Jon Sobrino, whose scholarship like his needs to be brought into greater contemporary debate about the subject's encounter with the other. More specifically, this book argues that for Levinas, Gutiérrez and Sobrino's commitment to the neighbor is the necessary context for understanding God. They posit the human other as the possibility of the subject's subjectivity. To be human is to act with love toward one's neighbor. Thus, the author articulates the possibility of reading Levinas' philosophy as a revalidation of one of the truths of Christianity: the concern for the humanity of every human person as expressed in Christian theology in general and liberation theology in particular. In order to show the relevance of Levinas' philosophy for Christian theology in general, the author discusses three Christian scholars: Enrique Dussel, Jean-Luc Marion, and Michael Purcell. Although they challenge some aspects of Levinas' philosophy, they nevertheless see its significance for Christian theological anthropology. The discussion concludes by proposing Levinas' philosophy and liberation theology's turn to the neighbor as significant for addressing contemporary socio-political and ethnic conflicts in sub-Saharan Africa.

To Set at Liberty Delwin Brown, 2011-07-19

The greatest event in twentieth-century church history was the Second Vatican Council. The greatest achievement which this event has made possible is the liberation theology and praxis of Latin America. In this event and in this achievement, freedom has won a great victory. The consequences of this victory have been almost as important for Protestants as for Catholics. Indeed, they have included the destruction of the great wall that separated these two communities for so long. For a while, this seemed to render Catholic thought highly dependent upon the last two centuries of Protestant theological development. But the actual result is that the great initiatives of the global Christian movement are now in the hands of Catholics. In so far as there is a center for the theology of the Protestant Orthodox World Council of Churches, that center is constituted by the primarily Catholic theology of liberation. Sadly, however, we must recognize that while liberation theology advances in the Third World, First World churches are drawing back from their supportive interest. This is equally true of Catholics and Protestants of Germany and North America. Churches in the First World are attending to increasing demands of their more conservative constituencies.

and seem less and less able to adopt positions that transcend economic and national interests It seems all too likely that in the eighties a politicized Third World Christianity will confront a First World church concerned for other worldly salvation and peace of mind and whose political dimension is exhausted by its nostalgia for an older morality and its sanctification of existing structures of power Brown s book makes evident how natural it is for North American theologians to share in the themes of liberation theology Karl Barth astutely observed that when the United States produced its own theology this should be a theology of freedom To Set at Liberty is just such a theology of freedom One of the most important lessons the Latin Americans have to teach us is that improved understanding by itself will not go far to produce those changes in United States policy our church life or personal life styles which must occur before our national role ceases to block the movement of political liberation in Latin America And elsewhere The message of liberation theology is that doctrines developed outside the matrix of practice are likely to have too little effect upon practice Process theology must learn this lesson too But meanwhile we can be grateful that Brown has done much to pave the way to partnership between one strand of North American theology and the great movement of Latin American theology from the Foreword by John B Cobb Jr Delwin Brown 1935 2009 was Dean Emeritus of the Pacific School of Religion He also served as Harvey H Pontoff Professor of Christian Theology at Iliff School of Theology and taught at Arizona State University His previous work has appeared in such journals as Religious Studies Process Studies Journal of the American Academy of Religion and Evangelische Kommentare

Mary According to Women Carol Frances Jegen, 1985 Mary According to Women presents a contemporary study of the woman of Nazareth who changes the course of human history The seven chapters develop familiar titles of Mary in the context of the Vatican II Church particularly its emphasis of justice and peace Following the lead of the second Vatican Council in its historic document Lumen Gentium the book develops implications of the Council s treatment of Mary in the mystery of Christ and the Church of one who is truly involved in the lives and struggles of Christians today Significantly the book is written by women whose experience and insight give new perspective to a revitalized appreciation and love of Mary Liberation Theologies Ronald G. Dialogue with the Other David Tracy, 1990 Dialogue with the Other expresses David Tracy s ongoing interest in the other and The Other His reflections enter into dialogue with figures as diverse as Meister Eckhart and William James and traditions as different as those of Buddhism Christianity and Judaism David Tracy is Distinguished Service Professor at the University of Chicago He is Professor of Theology at the Chicago Divinity School and Professor in the Committee on the Analysis of Ideas and Methods Among his better known are Blessed Rage for Order 1975 The Analogical Imagination 1981 and Plurality and Ambiguity 1987 Essays in Critical Theology Gregory Baum, 1994 To find out more about Rowman Littlefield titles please visit us at www rowmanlittlefield com From Conquest to Struggle David Batstone, 1991-01-22 This book goes to the very heart of the passionate debate over the true character of Christian faith and practice The advance of liberation theology in the Latin American church has caused international reverberations within both the religious and political worlds The Vatican was moved to denounce it as heretical and the Reagan Bush administration has deemed it a significant threat to the stability of the region Here Batstone evaluates the writings of liberation theologians as they consider the central figure of Christian faith Jesus of Nazareth and asks whether a message of liberation for the poor and oppressed actually springs from the life and teachings of Jesus or is merely a religious projection of activists bent on radical social transformation The judgment given to that issue will weigh heavily in the debate which currently rages in religious communities and seminaries over the political role and responsibility of the church Batstone s work links these discussions to the concrete lives of the Latin American people and in that sense goes beneath the text and examines the subtext of religious reflection Chapters present events and stories that originate in the daily realities of contemporary Latin America and then consider what connection these experiences have to the story of Jesus of Nazareth
