The Nature and Enforcement of Choice of Court

Agreements Mukarrum Ahmed, 2017-10-05 PRAISE FOR THE BOOK This constitutes a work of impressive scholarship that will become a major reference point for future discourse on choice of court agreements Dr Ahmed advances a firm thesis in a lucid manner that will satisfy both academics and practitioners The discussion is supported by a monumental foundation of underpinning research Ahmed s monograph throughout shows clear understanding of underlying substantive laws and in Chapter 11 displays a refreshing willingness to engage in intelligent speculation on the implications of Brexit Professor David Milman University of Lancaster The book is an excellent attempt to understand the theoretical underpinnings of choice of court agreements in private international law Anyone with an interest in the theory and practice of choice of court agreements in particular in mechanisms for their enforcement should read this book They will find much of value by doing so Professor Paul Beaumont University of Aberdeen from the Series Editor s Preface This book examines the fundamental juridical nature classification and enforcement of choice of court agreements in international commercial litigation It is the first full length attempt to integrate the comparative and doctrinal analysis of choice of court agreements under the Brussels I Recast Regulation the Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements Hague Convention and the English common law jurisdictional regime into a theoretical framework In this regard the book analyses the impact of a multilateral and regulatory conception of private international law on the private law enforcement of choice of court agreements before the English courts In the process it both pre empts and offers innovative solutions to issues that may arise under the jurisprudence of the emergent Brussels I Recast Regulation and the Hague Convention The need to understand the nature and enforcement of choice of court agreements before the English courts from the perspective of the EU private international law regime and the Hague Convention cannot be understated This important new study aims to fill an existing gap in the literature in relation to an account of choice of court agreements which explores and reconnects arguments drawn from international legal theory with legal practice However the scope of the work remains most relevant for cross border commercial lawyers interested in crafting pragmatic solutions to the conflicts of jurisdictions

Nature of Private Contract, 1961

Public Private

Partnership Contracts Mohamed Ismail, 2020-03-18 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the law surrounding PPPs in the Middle East and North African region The significance of liberalised and integrated Public Private Partnership Contracts as an essential component of the world legal and policy order is well documented The regulation of PPPs is justified economically to allow for competition in the relevant public service and to achieve price transparency thus resulting in significant savings for the public sector In parallel to the economic justifications legal imperatives have also called for the regulation of PPPs in order to allow free movement of goods and services and to prohibit discrimination on grounds of nationality The need for competitiveness and transparency in delivering public services through PPPs is considered a safeguard to achieve international standards in delivering public utility services First it assesses the compatibility of the current PPPs legislation and regulation in the MENA region with the international standards of legislation and regulation prevalent in many other countries including the UK France and Brazil Secondly it compares the practices in the MENA region with those of international bodies such as the OECD and World Bank Comparisons are then made between the MENA countries and those in Europe and Asia with regard to the influence of culture policy and legal globalization The book will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of international contract law public law and state contracts finance law and private law The Politics of Private Transnational Governance by Contract A. Claire Cutler,Thomas Dietz,2017-03-31

Outsourcing state functions and the limits of existing regulatory regimes Contract as transnational regulatory governance The emergence of a transnational private regime for the regulation of PMSCs Conclusion Notes References 14 Conclusion Empire through contract A private international law perspective Abstract Introduction Self constituting regimes Private international law s libertarian view of contract Possible antidotes From the undiscovered DNA of contract law to new global forms of legal pluralism Notes References Index Tourists, Consumer Contracts and Private International Law in China Zhen Chen,2025-03-29 This book explores the intersection of consumer contracts and private international law with a specific focus on tourists in China The primary aim is to analyze how private international law addresses consumer protection issues particularly for tourists and to come up with legislative proposals to improve consumer protection in China By examining current legislative provisions case studies and judicial practices the book provides a comprehensive understanding of consumer protection in Chinese private international law and potential legal reforms to enhance consumers access to justice in cross border litigation The increasing globalization and mobility of consumers especially tourists call for robust legal frameworks to protect their rights across borders While China does endeavor to protect consumers the current regulations in Chinese private international law remain insufficient Consumers including tourist consumers still encounter major obstacles in international civil litigation This book highlights the strengths and weaknesses of China s legal system offering insights for potential legal reforms to enhance consumer protection there This book is intended for academics legal practitioners policymakers and students with an interest in private international law consumer protection and comparative law It also offers a valuable resource for international organizations involved in consumer rights and tourism By providing a focused analysis of tourist related consumer contracts in China it fills a critical gap in the existing literature The Nature and Future of Tourism Maximiliano E. Korstanje,Babu George,2022-06-08 This book focuses on the tourism industry in conjunction with the impact of COVID 19 from the perspective that it is both negatively impacting the industry while also offering an opportunity to rise from the ashes The volume offers a new conceptualization and theorization of tourism suggests new research methods offers parallels with other crises such as 9 11 to better understand the current one and suggests futurist and innovative strategies This book offers a wide range of topics on how a pandemic can impact customer satisfaction and the tourism industry Private Law and the Employment Contract Alan Bogg, Paul S Davies, 2025-07-24 This book brings together leading scholars from private law and employment law to reflect upon private law doctrines as they relate to the employment contract. Developing an interdisciplinary dialogue, these contributions explore the regulatory functions of private law doctrines at the cutting edge of modern employment law. Topics include the potential and limitations of private law damages, the role of injunctions and specific performance, the interactions between express and implied terms, vicarious liability, substantial performance and breach, and the common law right to work. The integration of scholarly perspectives from the realms of private law and employment law enriches and deepens our understanding of core private law doctrines. Historically, employment law was defined in terms of its autonomy from general private law. This achievement of autonomy was highly prized and considered necessary to facilitate industrial freedoms for trade unions and the protection of employees from exploitation. But the contractual basis of employment means that any such autonomy has always been partial and unstable. Furthermore, as trade unions have declined and governments have deregulated statutory employment rights, private law has assumed growing practical importance in strategic appellate litigation. In many common law jurisdictions, private law doctrines have become the new battleground between employers, workers, and trade unions. The essays in this book examine specific doctrinal issues against this dynamic backdrop of changing social, economic, and constitutional conditions. While focused mainly on English law, the essays also consider examples from other jurisdictions, including Australia and Scotland. As private law becomes the default regulation for most employment contracts in 21st century labour markets across the world, this book is an essential resource for practitioners, judges, academics, and students. Cases on the General Principles of the Law of Private Corporations Horace La Fayette Wilgus, 1902 Human Rights in Private Law Dan Friedmann, Daphne Barak-Erez, 2002-03-12 Traditionally, the theory of human rights limited its application to the public domain, namely the relationships between individuals and public authorities. The great expansion of human rights legislation and concepts in modern national and international law has given rise to a major issue relating to their potential impact on private relationships. This book examines this important topic, which may revolutionize private law. It presents new approaches which strive to broaden the application of human rights to the private field on the ground that power can be abused and human rights can be infringed even when all parties are private. The subject is examined from theoretical and comparative perspectives by leading scholars representing a diversity of legal systems: the United States, Canada, England, South Africa, Germany, and Israel. Among the contributors are Professor Todd Rakoff (Harvard), Professor Roger Brownsword (Sheffield), Professor Hugh Beale (Warwick), and Professor Ewan McKendrick (Oxford). Professor Ernest Weinrib and Professor Lorraine Weinrib (Toronto), Professor Christian Starck (Göttingen), Professor Andreas Heldrich (Munich), and others.
