The New Information Infrastructure Strategies For Us Policy:

The New Information Infrastructure William J. Drake,1995 Drake examines the transformation of the telecommunications and information industries and outlines a range of policy options that are suited to the emerging world of advanced information infrastructures on a nation and global basis Governing Telecommunications and the New Information Society in Europe Jacint Jordana,2002-10-29 offers a fresh look at efforts to manage telecommunications and the emerging information society in Europe _ Communication Booknotes Quarterly European countries have recently been involved in an extremely broad set of regulator Strategic Warfare in Cyberspace Gregory J. Rattray,2001 A comprehensive analysis of strategic information warfare waged via digital means as a distinct concern for the United States and its allies In the information age information systems may serve as both weapons and targets Although the media has paid a good deal of attention to information warfare most treatments so far are overly broad and without analytical foundations In this book Gregory Rattray offers a comprehensive analysis of strategic information warfare waged via digital means as a distinct concern for the United States and its allies Rattray begins by analyzing salient features of information infrastructures and distinguishing strategic information warfare from other types of information based competition such as financial crime and economic espionage He then establishes a conceptual framework for the successful conduct of strategic warfare in general and of strategic information warfare in particular Taking a historical perspective he examines U S efforts to develop air bombardment capabilities in the period between World Wars I and II and compares them to U S efforts in the 1990s to develop the capability to conduct strategic information warfare He concludes with recommendations for strengthening U S strategic information warfare defenses Handbook on the Economics of the Internet Johannes M.
