Sky Burial:

Tibetan Rituals of Death Margaret Gouin, 2012-09-10 This book describes and analyses the structure and performance of Tibetan Buddhist death rituals and situates that performance within the wider context of Buddhist death practices generally Drawing on a detailed and systematic comparative survey of existing records of Tibetan funerary practices including historical travel accounts anthropological and ethnographic literature Tibetan texts and academic studies it demonstrates that there is no standard form of funeral in Tibetan Buddhism although certain elements are common The structure of the book follows the twin trajectories of benefiting the deceased and protecting survivors in the process it reveals a rich and complex panoply of activities some handled by religious professionals and others by lay persons This information is examined to identify similarities and differences in practices and the degree to which Tibetan Buddhist funeral practices are consistent with the mortuary rituals of other forms of Buddhism A number of elements in these death rites which at first appear to be unique to Tibetan Buddhism may only be Tibetan in their surface characteristics while having roots in practices which pre date the transmission of Buddhism to Tibet Filling a gap in the existing literature on Tibetan Buddhism this book poses research challenges that will engage future scholars in the field of Buddhism Tibetan Buddhism and Anthropology

Paradise Field Pamela Ryder, 2017-09-19 Interconnected stories depicting the last years of a WWII bomber pilot his relationship with his daughter as both child and adult and his drift into infirmity and death When life dwindles to its irrevocable conclusion recollections are illuminated even unto the grave Such is the narrative of Paradise Field A Novel in Stories whose title is taken from a remote airfield in the American Southwest and while the father recalls his flying days his daughter who nurses the old man reflects as well Pamela Ryder's stories vary in style and perspective and time lines overlap as death advances and retreats This unique and shifting narrative explores the complexities of a relationship in which the father who has been a high flying outsider descends into frailty and becomes dependent upon the daughter he has never really known The opening story Interment for Yard and Garden begins as a simple handbook for Jewish burial and bereavement although the narrator cannot help but reveal herself and her motives From there the telling begins anew and unfolds chronologically returning to the adult daughter's childhood a family vacation in France the grotesqueries of the dinner table the shadowy sightings of a father who has flown away A final journey takes father and daughter back to the Southwest in search of Paradise Field Their travels through that desolate landscape foreshadow the father's ultimate decline as portrayed in the concluding stories that tell of the uneasy transformation in the bond between them and in the transcendence of his demise Taken together the stories in Paradise Field are an eloquent but unsparing depiction of infirmity and death as well as solace and provocation for anyone who has been left to stand graveside and confront eternity
