Jackson,2013-11-28 Buildings of Empire takes the reader on an exciting journey through thirteen territories of the British Empire From Dublin Castle to the glass and steel of Sir Norman Foster s Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank skyscraper these buildings capture the essence of the imperial experience painting an intimate portrait of the biggest empire the world has ever seen the people who made it and the people who resisted it as well as the legacy of the imperial project throughout the world Ashley Jackson visits classic examples of the buildings that the British governed from the forts they often brutally imposed their rule from the railway stations they travelled from the banks they traded from the educational establishments they spread their values from as well as the grand colonial hotels they stayed in the sporting clubs and botanical gardens where they took their leisure and the monumental exhibition spaces in which they celebrated the achievements of settlement and imperial endeavour The history of these buildings does not end with the empire that built them Their story in the aftermath of empire highlights the continuing legacy of many of the structures and institutions the British left behind as well as the sometimes unexpected role that these former symbols of alien rule have played in the establishment of new national identities in the years since independence Cool Salvatore Basile,2014-09-01 A history of air conditioning chronicling the numerous gimmicks failed attempts con jobs and eventual successes a surprisingly interesting journey San Francisco Book

Review The air conditioner is often hailed as one of the modern world s greatest inventions yet nearly as often blamed for global disaster It has changed everything from architecture to people s food habits saved countless lives and caused countless deaths First appearing in 1902 when Willis Carrier an engineer barely out of college developed the Apparatus for Treating Air everyone assumed it would instantly change the world But the story of air conditioning and its rise to ubiquity is far from simple In Cool Salvatore Basile tracks two fascinating stories the struggle to perfect an effective cooling device and the effort to convince people that they actually needed such a thing With a cast of characters ranging from Leonardo da Vinci to Richard Nixon and Felix the Cat Cool showcases the myriad reactions to air conditioning as it was developed and introduced to the world Here is a unique perspective on a common convenience how we came to rely on it today and how it might change radically tomorrow Firefighting Operations in High-Rise and Standpipe-Equipped Buildings David
