Smitha Abraham

Softly Walking:

Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability Phoebe Godfrey, Denise Torres, 2016-06-17 It must be acknowledged that any solutions to anthropogenic Global Climate Change GCC are interdependent and ultimately inseparable from both its causes and consequences As a result limited analyses must be abandoned in favour of intersectional theories and practices Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability is an interdisciplinary collection which addresses global climate change and sustainability by engaging with the issues of race gender and class through an intersectional lens The book challenges readers to foster new theoretical and practical linkages and to think beyond the traditional and oftentimes reductionist environmental science frame by examining issues within their turbulent political cultural and personal landscapes Through a variety of media and writing styles this collection is unique in its presentation of a complex and integrated analysis of global climate change and its implications Its companion book Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change addresses the social and ecological urgency surrounding climate change and the need to use intersectionality in both theory and practice This book is a valuable resource for academics researchers and both undergraduate and post graduate students in the areas of Environmental Studies Climate Change Gender Studies and International studies as well as those seeking a more intersectional analysis of GCC

Walking in the Wild Smitha Abraham, 2018-11-22 Poems like And I Gaze A Walk in the Clouds By the Side of a Stream etc are a testimony to the fact that I tend to find solace in nature Other poems like A Beautiful Evening Stranger Hand in Hand etc tend to be nostalgic in nature evoking sweet remembrances of the moments gone by and the yearning to be ever present in those moments

Walking with Jenny Jenny Wright, 2010-01-08 A lot of this book is written in the Southern Appalachian dialect of which I love because of its uniqueness Except for a few short stories the rest of it is told in poetry form although each poem has its own story There's some sadness some happiness and a lot of humor It's a book that can be enjoyed by everyone who loves a humorous lyrical account of events places and the people therein Children young adults and older folk can sit back read and enjoy A Walk with Jenny

Engaging in Narrative Inquiries with Children and Youth Jean Clandinin, Vera Caine, Sean Lessard, Janice Huber, 2016-03-24

Renowned scholar and founder of the practice of narrative inquiry D Jean Clandinin and her coauthors provide researchers with the theoretical underpinnings and processes for conducting narrative inquiry with children and youth Exploring the unique ability of narratives to elucidate the worldview of research subjects the authors highlight the unique steps and issues of working with these special populations The authors address key ethical issues of anonymity and confidentiality the relational issues of co composing field and research texts with subjects and working within the familial contexts of children and youth include numerous examples from the authors studies and others many from indigenous communities to show narrative inquiry in action should be invaluable to researchers in education family relations child development and children's health and services west boundary Theresa Terri Riley slipped past Brody's defenses and bought the place out from under him and the battle was on. But when Brody got a good look at Terri and over being furious he tried a different approach. Terri's family decided to give her a boost in Brody's direction and to matrimony. Talked them into a marriage that was a ruse complete with a trip to Las Vegas for the marriage honeymoon and return to home. Then strange things began to happen dangerous things. Given Terri's distrust of men Terri decided she needed to stop the bad things. Could she trust Brody her feelings and could they make this pretend marriage into a real one.
