Solar Space Observations And Stellar Prospects:

Future Missions in Solar, Heliospheric & Space Plasma Physics Erica Rolfe, B. Battrock, 1985 International Aerospace Abstracts, 1995 Advances in Helio- and Asteroseismology Jørgen Christensen-Dalsgaard, Søren Frandsen, 2012-12-06 Helio and asteroseismology study the interior of the Sun and other stars by means of observations of oscillations on their surfaces The last 10 years in the study of the solar interior to a has witnessed a very rapid evolution point where we can now contemplate investigating the physical state of matter or the details of rotation and other large scale motion in the Sun The stellar studies are in some respects at the point of the solar studies 10 years ago but appear poised to take off Thus the time was deemed ripe for IAO Symposium No 123 to assess the present status of this work and plan for its future development Apart from the seismic data few observations are available to provide information about stellar interiors Detailed studies by spectral analysis can be made of stellar surface properties including atmospheric temperature and chemical composition However the stellar radiative spectrum is almost entirely fixed by the mass luminosity radius and surface rotation of the star and contains essentially no other information about the interior An important test of stellar evolution theory is provided by observations of stellar clusters whose members can reasonably be assumed to have the same age and chemical composition The location of such stars in a HR diagram where luminosity is plotted against the effective temperature can roughly be understood in terms of stellar evolution calculations Materials Sciences in Space--IV COSPAR.
