Solitary Outlaw:

The Outlaw's Story Derek Pedley, 2007-07-31 Brenden James Abbott was the most wanted man in Australia. He became famous for his ability to elude the authorities. This book reveals how he pulled off two daring escapes from maximum security prisons and executed some of Australia's most profitable and complex bank robberies. A Genealogy of Modernism

Michael Harry Levenson, 1986-06-27 A Genealogy of Modernism is a study of literary transition in the first two decades of the twentieth century, a period of extraordinary ferment and great accomplishment during which the avant garde gradually consolidated a secure place within English culture. Michael Levenson analyses that complex process by following the successive phases of a literary movement: Impressionist, Imagist, Vorticist, Classicist, as it attempted to formulate the principles on which a new aesthetic might be founded. The emphasis here falls on the ideology of modernism, but throughout the book the ideological question is tied on the one hand to specific literary works and on the other to general movements in philosophy and the fine arts. The major figures under discussion are Joseph Conrad, Ford Madox Ford, Ezra Pound, Wyndham Lewis, and T. S. Eliot, placed in relation to thinkers who have been largely neglected in the history of modernism: Max Stirner, Wilhelm Worringer, Pierre Lasserre, Allen Upward, and Hilaire Belloc. Levenson thus situates the emergence of a modernist aesthetic within the context of literary theory, literary practice, and cultural history. The Solitary Outlaw

Bruce W. Powe, 1987 Revolutionaries, Rebels and Robbers Pascale Baker, 2015-10-02 Original perspective on bandits in Latin American bandit studies will inform and generate discussion and debate. Analysis of banditry in South America following the Robin Hood model. This subject is enduringly popular with Hobsbawm's theories always up for new readings by both academics and the general public. A new look at infamous bandit Pancho Villa and the novel The Underdogs. For those who know the novel, this will provide a controversial new perspective; for those that do not, an insight into the work of the Mexican Revolution and its bandits such as Villa. The translations will help make this book accessible to both Spanish and non-Spanish speakers. Speechsong Richard Cavell, 2020 Speechsong is a work of imaginative musicology that addresses the enigmas of Schoenberg and Gould of singing and speaking of Moses and Aron of technology and being. Its point of departure is Gould's last public performance given at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre in Los Angeles, where a number of Schoenberg's works were performed during his California exile. It is here, after that last performance, that Gould encounters a spectral Schoenberg in a staged conversation that explores Schoenberg's travails in rethinking the fundamentals of Western music. This first part of Speechsong recalls Schoenberg's operatic masterpiece Moses und Aron, in which the divinely inspired Moses seeks the help of his brother to relate his vision. Moses speaks and Aron sings. Written as a twelve-tone composition, the opera produces an involution of harmonics that was Schoenberg's response to Richard Wagner's diatribes about synagogue noise. For Gould, Schoenberg's is a formalist revolution. Schoenberg's life, however, suggests that it was a search for personal and political freedom. The second half of Speechsong is a critical essay in twelve moments that re-articulates the staged conversation as an inquiry into the intersections of music and mediation Gould's turn to the recording studio emerges as a post humanist inquiry into recorded music as a repudiation of the virtuoso tradition and a liberation from unitary notions of selfhood Schoenberg's exodus from musical tradition likewise takes his twelve tone invention beyond musical performance where it emerges along with Gould's soundscapes as a prototype of acoustic installations by artists such as Stephen Prina and Cory Arcangel In these works music abandons the concert hall and the exigencies of harmony for an acoustic space that embraces at once the recordings of Gould and the performances of Schoenberg that have found their home on the internet Richard Cavell has written extensively on Marshall McLuhan and on media theory generally He is the co founder of the Media Studies program at the University of British Columbia and the curator of the website Spectres of McLuhan Speechsong his second critical performance piece was preceded by Marinetti Dines with the High Command 2014

Outlaws and Spies Conor McCarthy, 2020-03-18 Conor McCarthy shows how outlaw literature and espionage literature critique the use of legal exclusion as a means of supporting state power Texts discussed range from the medieval Robin Hood ballads Shakespeare's history plays and the Ned Kelly story to John le Carr Don DeLillo Ciaran Carson and William Gibson

Canadian National Cinema Christopher E. Gittings, 2002 This book traces the inscription of nation across Canada's film history from early films of colonisation and white settlement to contemporary Canada's diverse multicultural output

Poetics, Ideology, Dissent Valentina Vetri, 2023-05-24 This book examines the translations carried out by Italian novelist Beppe Fenoglio one of the most important Italian writers of the twentieth century It stems from the acknowledgement that Beppe Fenoglio's translations have not been examined in the political cultural and ideological context in which they were produced but have been dismissed as a purely linguistic exercise The author examines Fenoglio's translations as culturally and ideologically informed artistic expressions in which Fenoglio was able to give voice to his dissent towards the mainstream ideology and poetics of his times often choosing authors and characters with whom he identified such as Shakespeare Milton and Marlowe The interaction between the theories of Translation Studies Literary Theory and Adaptation Studies foregrounds the centrality of the role of the translator showing how Fenoglio's ideology and poetics were clearly visible both in the selection of the texts he translated and in his translation strategies A History of Media W. Lambert Gardiner, 2002 The conception day gift includes a means of storing information memory and of transmitting information speech Memory Speech could thus be considered as a first generation of media However natural selection can explain our evolution only to a hunter gatherer society How have we managed the transitions over historical time to an agricultural an industrial and now an information society We have learned how to extend our nervous systems by storing information Print Film second generation by transmitting information Telephone Television third generation and by both storing and transmitting information outside our bodies Multimedia Internet fourth generation A History of Media tells this story of the co evolution of the person and media as extensions This long perspective will help us better understand our turbulent transitional times as we assimilate the fourth generation of media This third transition will be clarified by analogy with the first and second transitions as we assimilated the second and third generations of media The work of Harold Innis Marshall McLuhan and their successors in the Toronto School of Media Studies will help illuminate those transitions
