The Leipziger Platz Urban Architecture For A New Berlin:

Staging the New Berlin Claire Colomb, 2013-06-17 This book explores the politics of place marketing and the process of urban reinvention in Berlin between 1989 and 2011 In the context of the dramatic socio economic restructuring processes changes in urban governance and physical transformation of the city following the Fall of the Wall the new Berlin was not only being built physically but staged for visitors and Berliners and marketed to the world through events and image campaigns which featured the iconic architecture of large scale urban redevelopment sites Public private partnerships were set up specifically to market the new Berlin to potential investors tourists Germans and the Berliners themselves The book analyzes the images of the city and the narrative of urban change which were produced over two decades In the 1990s three key sites were turned into icons of the new Berlin the new Postdamer Platz the new government quarter and the redeveloped historical core of the Friedrichstadt Eventually the entire inner city was staged through a series of events which turned construction sites into tourist attractions New sites and spaces gradually became part of the 2000s place marketing imagery and narrative as urban leaders sought to promote the creative city By combining urban political economy and cultural approaches from the disciplines of urban politics geography sociology and planning the book contributes to a better understanding of the interplay between the symbolic politics of representation through place marketing and the politics of urban development and place making in contemporary urban governance

Neill, H. Schwedler, 2001-04-30 Cities divided by ethnic and cultural conflict need to identify create and maintain some kind of shared identity amongst their inhabitants if they wish to survive in competition with one another and not be submerged in tensions Urban planning and city management can take these identities on board constructively and can assist them without allowing the city to deteriorate into a disconnected and hostile conglomeration Belfast and Berlin are currently in the process of responding to this challenge What will the implications be for town planners and how do they approach their task Constructing New Berlin Phoenix Art Museum, 2006 Berlin is poised to emerge as one of the world's most exciting centers of contemporary art As artists from different countries flock to the new capital of reunified Germany its major museums are undergoing a massive renovation while grant programmes and inexpensive studio space are giving new talents the chance to create and display their art Published in conjunction with a major exhibition at the Phoenix Museum of Art this catalogue is the first comprehensive survey of the artistic renaissance of post wall Berlin Many of the works which include paintings sculpture photography film installation sound and performance art were completed in this century In addition to colour illustrations of each of the works this volume includes essays on the Berlin art scene the city's recent architecture and what the future may hold for this exciting nexus of creativity New Landscape Design Robert Holden, 2003 In addition the book provides the reader with insight into many of the other concerns facing landscape architects such as the image and the function of urban spaces ecological survival sustainability native people and their settlements environmental education and the role and nature of human settlement Detailed technical information presented in accessible format with full color illustrations Careful examination of past designs provides unique resource for landscape architects to learn and improve their own work Clear focus on modern examples helps architects meet uniquely modern challenges such as urban sprawl and environmental concerns The City Crown by Bruno Taut Matthew Mindrup, Ulrike Altenmüller-Lewis, 2016-03-09 This book is the first English translation of the German architect Bruno Taut's early twentieth century anthology Die Stadtkrone The City Crown Written under the influence of World War I Taut developed The City Crown to promote a utopian urban concept where people would live in a garden city of apolitical socialism and peaceful collaboration around a single purpose free crystalline structure Taut's proposal sought to advance the garden city idea of Ebenezer Howard and rural aesthetic of Camillo Sitte's urban planning schemes by merging them with his own city crown concept The book also contains contributions by the Expressionist poet Paul Scheerbarth the writer and politician Erich Baron and the architectural critic Adolf Behne Although the original German text was republished in 2002 only the title essay of The City Crown has previously been translated into English This English translation of Taut's full anthology complete with all illustrations and supplementary texts fills a significant gap in the literature on early modern architecture in Germany and the history of urban design. It includes a translators preface introduction and afterword to accompany the original composition of essays poems designs and images. These original texts are accompanied by illustrations of Taut's own designs for a utopian garden city of 300 000 inhabitants and over 40 additional historic and contemporary examples. The new preface to The City Crown explains the premise for the English translation of Taut's anthology its organization and the approaches taken by the translators to maintain the four different voices included in the original work. Matthew Mindrup's introduction critically examines the professional and intellectual developments leading up to and supporting Bruno Taut's proposal to advance the English garden city concept with a centralized communal structure of glass the city crown. Through the careful examination of original Introducing Urban Design Clara Greed, Marion Roberts, 2014-10-14 Introducing Urban Design: Interventions and Responses is a new departure in the town planning series under the editorship of Clara Greed. The dynamic new subject and profession of urban design straddles the fields of town planning architecture landscape architecture and transport planning. This book recognises that a key feature of modern urban design practice is the ability to integrate a concern with the visual and aesthetic aspects of urban form with a strong social awareness of the need of user groups plus a sensitivity to wider environmental and sustainability issues. In this it continues the themes already introduced in earlier volumes such as the changing nature of the profession social problems and the means of implementing policy. Written by a team of eminent urban designers architects and planners under the joint editorship of Clara Greed and Marion Roberts the book introduces the reader to the subject through a discussion of current issues approaches and user responses. Introducing Urban Design: Interventions and Responses is an ideal resource for undergraduate courses in town planning architecture landscape architecture estate management and housing studies. It is also suitable as an introductory text for first year diploma and masters programmes in urban design and suitable for RTPI RICS CIOH CIOB ASI ISVA and RIBA courses and will be of interest to professional practitioners in the urban design field.

German Architecture for a Mass Audience Kathleen James-Chakraborty, 2002-09-06 This book vividly illustrates the ways in which buildings designed by many of Germany's most celebrated twentieth century architects were embedded in widely held beliefs about the power of architecture to influence society. German Architecture for a Mass Audience also demonstrates the way in which these modernist ideas have been challenged and transformed most recently in the rebuilding of central Berlin.

Urban Forests, Trees, and Greenspace L. Anders Sandberg, Adrina Bardekjian, Sadia Butt, 2014-07-25 Urban forests trees and greenspace are critical in contemporary planning and development of the city. Their study is not only a question of the growth and conservation of green spaces but also has social cultural and psychological dimensions. This book brings a perspective of political ecology to the complexities of urban trees and forests through three themes human agency in urban forests and greenspace arboreal and greenspace agency in the urban landscape and actions and interventions in the urban forest. Contributors include leading authorities from North America and Europe from a range of disciplines including forestry ecology geography landscape design municipal planning environmental policy and environmental history Kollhoff Annegret Burg,1998 Friedrich Gilly Friedrich Gilly,1994-09-13 When Friedrich Gilly died in 1800 at age twenty eight his architectural career had spanned less than a decade and construction of his major designs was incomplete Nevertheless his ideas so strongly influenced Berlin architecture of the next century that he is now widely regarded as the founder of Berlin s distinct architectural tradition By uniting Rationalist and Neoclassicist principles his designs achieve an artistic expression that is at once visually dramatic and formally pure Today his theories are known primarily through the work of Karl Friedrich Schinkel his student who became one of Berlin s primary modern architects In addition to presenting five of Gilly s most influential essays this volume contains previously unpublished archival records that clarify the intellectual context in which Gilly developed his thoughts on architecture A catalog of Gilly s personal library is especially illuminating AIA Guide to New York City Norval White, Elliot Willensky, Fran Leadon, American Institute of Architects. New York Chapter,2010-06-09 The AIA Guide to New York City has been the ultimate single volume guide to the City s architectural treasures Back cover Visual Culture in Twentieth-century Germany Gail Finney,2006 Visual Culture in Twentieth Century Germany explores a wide spectrum of visual media in 20th century Germany in their critical and social contexts Contributors examine film photography cabaret performances advertising architecture painting dance television and cartography Future City Stephen Read,Jürgen Rosemann, Job van Eldijk,2012-10-02 This text focuses on cities as the dominant form of human settlement for the future examining the transformation that is happening in urban connobations worldwide today The last few decades have seen a rate of change and growth in cities that has never been seen before resulting in giant metropolises with over twenty million inhabitants This book tackles the causes of these changes and looks at how the planning and design of cities can shape the urban future Art and architecture of the late 20th century Dorothea Eimert,2024-11-12 During the second half of the twentieth century in a world transformed by international tensions the centre of artistic creation shifted from Europe to the United States In a world where major countries asserted their power individualism now ruled The art world was a perfect example of this phenomenon even now the emphasis of creativity is placed on the individual instead of the trend Moreover growing globalization and the various types of media have facilitated a multiplication of means and offered artists new possibilities Now at the dawn of the twenty first century everything has the potential to be art and art more than ever is the opportunity to take risks to present and transform almost anything This work invites the reader to discover the diversity of this most recent artistic environment
