Dear Father

I can't imagine what has become of you & for it is now two months, at least, since I have the pleasure of receiving one of your little letters. The poor birds, he needs writing.

Grand old stone will be at the school, Miss M. & I spent Sunday here & I first met with us. There is a dull and dreary little waterway - plain - but the air is so pure & the view and we have taken a horse for the week then arrived. I go to Springfield every three miles, & it is every day, but I am too busy at home to take care of the old.
