The Life And Work Of Writer Annie Trumbull Slosson A Connecticut Local Colorist:

The Life and Work of Writer Annie Trumbull Slosson Edward Ifkovic, 2004 The Life and Work of Writer Annie Trumbull Slosson Edward Ifkovic, 2004 Annie Trumbull Slosson 1832 1926 was an important short story writer who epitomized the American local color movement that flourished after the Civil War and ended at the beginning of the twentieth century Along with writers like Sarah Orne Jewett Mary Wilkins Freeman and Elizabeth Stuart Phelps she helped establish the popular and critical model of the short story in which location and idiosyncratic characterization identified a particular region of the United States In New England women dominated the genre for the isolated farms and desolate villages were often places where women and old men lived the young men had died in the war or had gone west in search of gold Slosson's first work The China Hunter's Club 1878 helped establish the viability of local dialect building on the tradition established by Harriet Beecher Stowe and Catherine Sedgwick But in her two most important volumes Seven Dreamers 1890 and Dumb Foxglove and Other Stories 1898 she reached full maturity with stories that developed the mystical psychological ramifications of her characters mostly older women who abandoned the old style Congregational Calvinist puritanism of their forebears and Archives of Desire J. Samaine Lockwood, 2015-09-14 In this thought provoking study of nineteenth century America J Samaine Lockwood offers an important new interpretation of the literary movement known as American regionalism Lockwood argues that regionalism in New England was part of a widespread woman dominated effort to rewrite history Lockwood demonstrates that New England regionalism was an intellectual endeavor that overlapped with colonial revivalism and included fiction and history writing antique collecting colonial home restoration and photography The cohort of writers and artists leading this movement included Sarah Orne Jewett Alice Morse Earle and C Alice Baker and their project was taken up by women of a younger generation such as Charlotte Perkins Gilman and Pauline Elizabeth Hopkins who extended regionalism through the modernist moment Lockwood draws on a diverse archive that includes fiction material culture collecting guides and more Showing how these women intellectuals aligned themselves with a powerful legacy of social and cultural dissent Lockwood reveals that New England regionalism performed queer historical work placing unmarried women and their myriad desires at the center of both regional and national history Inherit the Holy Mountain Mark Stoll, 2015 Inherit the Holy Mountain puts religion at the center of the history of American environmentalism rather than at its margins demonstrating how religion provided environmentalists with content direction and tone for the environmental causes they espoused Critical Essays on the Works of American Author Dorothy Allison Christine Blouch, Laurie Vickroy, 2004 This is a collection of essays examining the works of Dorothy Allison 1950 one of the most original and influential contemporary American women writers working today Allison is perhaps best known as author of the acclaimed best selling novels Bastard Out of Carolina a National Book Award Finalist in 1992 and Caved 1998 Her numerous other works have included short story and essay collections poetry and an autobiography The critical essays in this collection consider Allison's short stories and essays as well as her novels discussing themes such as trauma and violence the body literary and critical connections and class among others As the first major collection of essays to focus solely on Allison's works this study provides ground breaking work on an important and interesting contemporary writer Allison's works attract readers from a range of academic disciplines and they have found a broad national public readership as well diverse comprising readers interested in a range of gender issues autobiographical writing trauma narratives Southern writing and lesbian and gay writing and issues

Early American Nature Writers Daniel Patterson, 2007-11-30 At a time when the environment is of growing concern to students and general readers nature writing is especially meaningful This book profiles the literary careers of 52 early American nature writers such as John James Audubon Ralph Waldo Emerson Caroline Stansbury Kirkland Thomas Jefferson Henry David Thoreau and Mabel Osgood Wright Each entry is written by an expert contributor and discusses the writer's life and works Entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and the encyclopedia ends with suggestions for further reading Global warming pollution and other issues have made the environment a topic of constant discussion these days Many environmental concerns were treated by early American nature writers who recognized the beauty of the natural world in an age of commercial expansion Some of the most famous writers of the 18th and 19th centuries wrote about nature and their works are stylistic masterpieces At a time when students are being encouraged to read and write about nonfiction these masterworks of early American nature writing are all the more important This book gives students and general readers a welcome introduction to early American nature writers
