Imagination Marie Claire Beaulieu unifies the multifarious representations of the sea and sea crossing in Greek myth and imagery by positing the sea as a cosmological boundary between the worlds of the living the dead and the gods or between reality and imagination The Physical Geography of the Sea, and Its Meteorology Matthew Fontaine Maury, 1864

Waves of Knowing Karin Amimoto Ingersoll, 2016-10-13 In Waves of Knowing Karin Amimoto Ingersoll marks a critical turn away from land based geographies to center the ocean as place Developing the concept of seascape epistemology she articulates an indigenous Hawaiian way of knowing founded on a sensorial intellectual and embodied literacy of the ocean As the source from which K naka Maoli Native Hawaiians draw their essence and identity the sea is foundational to Kanaka epistemology and ontology Analyzing oral histories chants artwork poetry and her experience as a surfer Ingersoll shows how this connection to the sea has been crucial to resisting two centuries of colonialism militarism and tourism In today s neocolonial context where continued occupation and surf tourism marginalize indigenous Hawaiians seascape epistemology as expressed by traditional cultural practices such as surfing fishing and navigating provides the tools for generating an alternative indigenous politics and ethics In relocating Hawaiian identity back to the waves currents winds and clouds Ingersoll presents a theoretical alternative to land centric viewpoints that still dominate studies of place making and indigenous epistemology Bible and Theology from the Underside of Empire Vuyani Vellem, 2017-03-30 Empire has become an apt label to name the present horizon of global life and is associated with logic and practices which threaten human life in myriad ways These reflections not only expose the true nature of empire but suggest an alternative vision of flourishing wrought by God s kingdom In a creative and imaginative manner the contributions highlight new liberative possibilities for life through non conventional Bible reading The authors display a sensitive moral antenna for the oppressive manifestations of empire and courageously intimate a new paradigm for Christian mission and public witness today The Physical Geography of the Sea, and Its Meteorology. Being a Reconstruction and Enlargement of the Eighth Edition of "The Physical Geography of the Sea" Matthew Fontaine Maury, 1860 Muse in the Machine Mark Conroy, 2004 A writer who simply panders to the public is seldom taken for an artist An artist who cannot publish is seldom granted a career This dilemma the subject of Muse in the Machine has been home to many authors of serious fiction since the eighteenth century But it is especially pointed for American writers since the United States never fostered a sustainable elite culture readership Its writers have always been reliant on mass publicity s machinery to survive and when they depict that machinery they also depict that reliance and the desire to transcend its banal formulas This book looks at artist tales from Henry James to don DeLillo s Mao II but also engages more indirect expressions of this tension between Romantic individualism and commercial requirements in Nathanael West Vladimir Nabokov and Thomas Pynchon It covers the twentieth century but its focus is not another rehearsal of media theory or word versus image Rather it aims to show how various novels about publicity culture also enact their authors own dramas how they both need and try to critique the machine In subject as well as approach this study questions the current impasse between those who say that the aesthetic aspires to its own pure realm and those who insist that it partakes of everyday practicality Both sides are right this book examines the consequences of that reality

The Biblical Cosmos Robin A. Parry, 2014-10-08 Welcome to the weird and wonderful world of the Bible When we read Scripture we often imagine that the world inhabited by the Bible s characters was much the same as our own We would be wrong The biblical world is an ancient world with a flat earth that stands at the center of the cosmos and with a vast ocean in the sky chaos dragons mystical mountains demonic deserts an underground zone for the dead stars that are sentient beings and if you travel upwards and through the doors in the solid dome of the sky God s heaven the heart of the universe This book takes readers on a guided tour of the biblical cosmos with the goal of opening up the Bible in its ancient world It then goes further and seeks to show how this very ancient biblical way of seeing the world is still revelatory and can speak God s word afresh into our own modern worlds Deliverance from Earth Bound and the Celestial Cetaceans Michelle Billiau-Morseu, 2013-04-01 With this blue planet of ours what better way than to learn from it s inhabitants I am talking about the Cetaceans of this world If we only just open ourselves up and really listen to what these wonderful creature have to say I challenge anyone to really get to know them and not be touched by them in some way Having a fascination with the cetaceans since I can remember This has been a calling to write this book for some years Having written many articles for magazines I thought it is time to finish my book My hope is this work will inspire others to stop and really appreciate the cetaceans and what they have to offer The Tales of Abbot's Cliffe Shenita Etwaroo,2016-08-15 THE TALES FROM ABBOTT'S CLIFFE is equal parts mystery campfire horror stories and thriller From the imaginative and innovative mind of Dr Shenita here lies a collection of interrelated stories chronicling one small Pacific Northwestern town as they battle with demons their own personal demons and the creatures that steal day from the night and come out of their hollows to hunt but for what The answer to this question and so much more rests within approximately twenty thousand words packed with action pure terror and even a spark of romance in an otherwise seemingly endless night The human soul is tested to the extreme placing each person and creature's faith in themselves in each other in spiritual matters into question Those that overcome survive Others
