The Outer Limits The Architects Of Fear:

The Outer Limits Joanne Morreale, 2022-04-05 Provides a history and criticism of an important disrupting force in early science fiction television programming In this TV Milestone author Joanne Morreale highlights the differences of The Outer Limits ABC 1963-65 from typical programs on the air in the 1960s Morreale argues that the show provides insight into changes in the television industry as writers turned to genre fiction in this case a hybrid of science fiction and horror to provide veiled social commentary The show illustrates the tension between networks who wanted mainstream entertainment and the independent writer producers Leslie Stevens and Joseph Stefano who wanted to use the medium to challenge viewers In five chapters The Outer Limits makes a case for the show's deployment of gothic melodrama and science fiction tropes unique televisual characteristics and creative adaptation of many cultural sources to interrogate the relationship between humans and technology in a way that continues to influence contemporary debate in such shows as Star Trek The X-Files and Black Mirror Underlying the arguments is the eerie notion of The Outer Limits as a disruptive force on television at the time purposely making audiences uncomfortable For example in its iconic opening credit sequence a disembodied Control Voice claims to be taking over the television as images mimic signal interference Other themes convey Cold War paranoia ambivalence about the Kennedy era New Frontier and anxiety about the burgeoning military industrial governmental complex The book points out that The Outer Limits presaged what came to be known as quality television While most episodes followed the lowbrow tradition of televised science fiction by adapting previously published stories and films the series elevated the genre by rearticulating it through themes and images drawn from myth literature and the art film The Outer Limits is lucid yet accessible well researched and argued with enlightening discussions of specific episodes even as it gives attention to broader television history and theory It will be of special interest to scholars and students of television and media studies as well as fans of science fiction

The Ex-Human Michael Bérubé, 2024-05-28 Facing threats like climate change and nuclear warfare science fiction authors have conjured apocalyptic scenarios of human extinction Can such gloomy fates help us make sense of our contemporary crises How important is the survival of our species if we wind up battling for an Earth that has become an uninhabitable hellscape What other possible futures do narratives of the end of humanity allow us to imagine Michael Bérubé explores the surprising insights of classic and contemporary works of SF that depict civilizational collapse and contemplate the fate of Homo sapiens In a lively conversational style he considers novels by writers including Ursula K. Le Guin Margaret Atwood Liu Cixin Philip K. Dick and Octavia Butler as well as films that feature hostile artificial intelligence such as 2001: A Space Odyssey Blade Runner and the Terminator and Matrix franchises Bérubé argues that these works portray a future in which we have become able to see ourselves from the vantage point of something other than the human Though framed by the possibility of human extinction they are driven by a vision of the ex-human a desire to imagine that another species is possible For all science fiction readers worried about the fate of humanity The Ex

Human is an entertaining yet sobering account of how key novels and films envision the world without us Impossible Histories Hal Johnson,2023-02-07 Across 1400 years and six continents sorry Australia Impossible Histories examines pivotal moments in history from both sides what happened and what would have happened had things gone differently The results are by turns strange hilarious tragic and always fascinating Imagine a world in which Hitler builds a thousand year Reich Columbus gets driven from the Americas by mounted knights Robespierre decapitates Caesar Augustus The Inca Empire has an air force Jimmy Carter presses the Button These brave new worlds are merely our own familiar world if something small had happened differently We re all one elephant away from peace in the Middle East one knife thrust away from nuclear Armageddon This book examines twenty pivotal moments in history asks what if and drags the answers kicking and screaming into the light History factual and counterfactual has never been so entertaining A whirlwind ride through history as it never happened but could have Monsters in the Machine Steffen Hantke,2016-06-20 During the 1950s and early 1960s the American film industry produced a distinct cycle of films situated on the boundary between horror and science fiction Using the familiar imagery of science fiction from alien invasions to biological mutation and space travel the vast majority of these films subscribed to the effects and aesthetics of horror film anticipating the dystopian turn of many science fiction films to come Departing from projections of American technological awe and optimism these films often evinced paranoia unease fear shock and disgust Not only did these movies address technophobia and its psychological social and cultural corollaries they also returned persistently to the military as a source of character setting and conflict Commensurate with a state of perpetual mobilization the US military comes across as an inescapable presence in American life Regardless of their genre Steffen Hantke argues that these films have long been understood as allegories of the Cold War They register anxieties about two major issues of the time atomic technologies especially the testing and use of nuclear weapons as well as communist aggression and or subversion Setting out to question expand and correct this critical argument Hantke follows shifts and adjustments prompted by recent scholarly work into the technological political and social history of America in the 1950s Based on this revised historical understanding science fiction films appear in a new light as they reflect on the troubled memories of World War II the emergence of the military industrial complex the postwar rewriting of the American landscape and the relative insignificance of catastrophic nuclear war compared to America s involvement in postcolonial conflicts around the globe Magnet Memories - The Story of a Secret Series 1977-1987 Nick Goodman,Jo Bunsell,2018-03-24 The TV series that was never made and that you ve never heard of celebrates its 40th year with an exhaustive retrospective guide Growing from a child s game the bizarrely titled The Magnet Editor ran for ten years and a breathtaking 47 series In bringing the series to life Nick Goodman drew from 70s pop culture including Doctor Who and The New Avengers and shared it only with his bewildered mother and childhood friends Jo Bunsell was one such friend and soon the pair would be transported into a shared universe of preposterous and badly designed monsters and non stop adventure with their extraordinary and strangely named hero Cabin Release Goodman and Bunsell open up their archive of materials and memories and take you on a roller coaster ride into their world Magnet Memories is an episode guide a frank critical incredulous and nostalgic reflection a snapshot of childhood in the 70s and 80s and it's possibly the most wonderfully bonkers cult TV book ever published Never-Ending Watchmen Will Brooker,2023-09-07 What began with Alan Moore and Dave Gibbons landmark graphic novel Watchmen 1987 is no longer a single story but rather a cross platform multi media franchise including a role playing game and video game a motion comic a Zack Snyder movie and a series of comic book prequels and sequels as well as a prestige HBO TV series Will Brooker explores the way that Watchmen expanded over time from the mid 1980s to the present day drawing on theories of adaptation intertextuality and deconstruction to argue that each addition subtly changes our understanding of the original Does it matter whether these adaptations are faithful Can they ever be as they cross over into another medium How does each version enter a dialogue with the others And as Damon Lindelof's series ran parallel to an entirely distinct comic book Watchmen sequel Doomsday Clock how do readers and viewers make sense of these conflicting narratives Can we relate the unstable shifting stories of Watchmen to our contemporary climate of post truth where we have to weigh up contradictory versions of the facts and decide which we believe

1999: A Space Odyssey John K Balor,2018-08-03 Part of the premise of the online discussion transcribed in this book is how Gerry Anderson's television series Space 1999 can be understood in relation to Stanley Kubrick's 2001 A Space Odyssey by looking at both narratives through the perspective of systems theory As a result of doing so an engaged debate concerned with the political and philosophical subtext of both stories developed This book gives a full account of the debate with summaries of ideas and insights The book has been developed on an idealistic basis It is sold at the lowest price the publisher was willing to accept A free e book version can be downloaded at www.lulu.com

A Walk in the Countryside Thom Pintello,2004 A Walk in the Countryside came about through my walks with my dog and best friend Jackson I always wondered how he perceived of the world of humans with their strange beliefs and odd customs and traditions I wondered if our lives could derive some meaning if seen from a dog's point of view Through this lens we discuss life's mundane moments as well as the major passages and all in the attempt to help Jackson understand our world Of course he helps me understand his and continually helps me see that our view is not the only one worth considering If you've ever owned a dog a cat or any pet for that matter I think you'll immediately be drawn into Jackson's world

Sad Planets Dominic Pettman, Eugene Thacker, 2024-03-28 Everything is sad wrote the Ancient poets But is this sadness merely a human experience projected onto the world or is there a gloom attributable to the world itself Could the universe be forever weeping the tears of things In this series of meditations Dominic Pettman and Eugene Thacker explore some of the key negative affects both eternal and emergent associated with climate change environmental destruction and cosmic solitude In so doing they unearth something so obvious that it has gone largely unnoticed the question of how we should feel about climate change Between the information gathered by planetary sensors and the simple act of breathing the air new unsettling moods are produced for which we currently lack an adequate language Should we feel grief over the loss of our planet Or is the strange feeling of witnessing mass extinction an indicator that the planet was never ours to begin with Sad Planets explores this relationship between our all too human melancholia and a more impersonal sorrow nestled in the heart of the cosmic elements Spanning a wide range of topics from the history of cosmology to the existential threat of climate change this book is a reckoning with the limits of human existence and comprehension As Pettman and Thacker observe never before have we known so much about the planet and the cosmos and yet never before have we felt so estranged from that same planet to say nothing of the stars beyond
