The Laws Of The Sun

Edward George CLARKE (Right Hon.
Sir.)

The Laws Of The Sun :

The Laws of the Sun Ryūhō Ōkawa, 1996 Offering a modern interpretation of traditional Buddhist teachings this book aims to reveal the transcendent nature of consciousness and the secrets of the multi dimensional universe It investigates the nature of the spirit and soul and what happens when people die The Laws of the Sun Ryūhō Ōkawa, 1990 The Laws of the Sun Ryuho Okawa, 2013 Imagine if you could ask God why He created this world and what spiritual laws He used to shape us and everything around us If we could understand His designs and intentions we could discover what our goals in life should be and whether our actions move us closer to those goals or farther away At a young age a spiritual calling prompted Ryuho Okawa to outline what he knew to be the universal truths for all humankind In The Laws of the Sun Okawa details the laws of the universe and how to give one's life meaning and purpose What is the nature of spirit and soul What really happens when we die What are the spiritual laws and how can we live in harmony with them Is there a Heaven and a Hell and what is the afterlife truly like The Laws of the Sun not only provides answers to these age old questions but also reveals the hidden story of Earth's genesis the Truths about Earth's intimate relationships with other parts of the universe and the profound untold history of humankind In Chapter 1 The Sun of the Truths Is Rising Okawa describes how the Primordial Buddha Primordial God designed the universe and created humans and other creatures We are actually souls with eternal life that reincarnate between this physical world and the spiritual world that is divided into progressive levels of enlightenment spiritual awareness This system was formed to provide infinite chances for us to keep growing toward becoming angels who can help more people as we gain the help of many angels who are guiding us from Heaven As this physical world started as a heavenly place Hell was not originally a part of God's design but appeared due to the negative thoughts that people started to develop The Laws of the Sun reveals Truths that will bring a guiding light and hope to the world Chapter 2 Buddha's Truths Speak explains how human souls are part of the Primordial Buddha Primordial God and that all beings are equal in that they are manifestations of His energy but are treated fairly based on the progress they have made It also explains that the soul of a person living on Earth is only a small part and the rest of the soul subconscious exists in the spirit world The mind the core of the soul has the power to create miracles or trigger disasters depending on the direction it's pointing at To point it in the right direction it is important that we practice the Eightfold Path in the context of modern life Chapter 3 The River of God's Love answers the question What is love Okawa says that love is an invincible power that ultimately comes from God and all of us are part of His love as givers of love We can make our love much closer to God's by improving our minds To develop a higher love that can contribute more to others we can aim to practice higher levels of love that also correspond to the different types of enlightenment The more unconditional and higher our love is the closer we become to angels and to a oneness with God and the more power we gain to help this world become closer to Heaven Chapter 4 Ultimate Enlightenment describes different stages of enlightenment leading to the highest level attainable for human beings

Enlightenment is a process of developing our spirituality and manifesting our divine nature thereby strengthening our connection to God This chapter provides a new perspective on enlightenment in today s world and shows new ways of training our souls in the current era while describing the enlightenment that Shakyamuni Buddha attained 2 500 years ago Chapter 5 The Golden Ages The History of Humankind shows that Earth s history is much longer than it is known today Just as human souls go through reincarnation whole civilizations go through similar cycles of growth and decline This chapter describes some of the key civilizations as far back as 735 000 years and shows that civilizations decline and suffer natural catastrophes when their people lost sight of spiritual values There are many things we can learn from these civilizations to tackle the struggles that our world sees today with hope and guidance In Chapter 6 The Path to El Cantare Okawa encourages the reader to awaken to their own spirituality and to open their heart to the existence of the spirit world To live a truly meaningful life we need to cast away all negative desires and become passionate about polishing our mind during our life on Earth He also shows how we can overcome challenges of everyday life conquer worries and suffering and achieve true self realization As an example of overcoming adversity and opening up a path Okawa introduces a brief autobiographical account of his life The Laws of the Sun opens the portal on a new age of harmony and spirituality based on God s Truths and will inspire us to appreciate that we all come from the same source to let go of our differences and to come together in peace and happiness one people prospering on one planet The Laws of the Sun Ryuho Okawa,1996 The Laws of the Sun Ryūhō Ōkawa,2018 University extension scheme.
