Leake,1995 Brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process In cognitive science artificial intelligence psychology and education a growing body of research supports the view that the learning process is strongly influenced by the learner's goals. The fundamental tenet of goal driven learning is that learning is largely an active and strategic process in which the learner human or machine attempts to identify and satisfy its information needs in the context of its tasks and goals, its prior knowledge, its capabilities and environmental opportunities for learning. This book brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process. It collects and solidifies existing results on this important issue in machine and human learning and presents a theoretical framework for future investigations. The book opens with an overview of goal driven learning research and computational and cognitive models of the goal driven learning process. This introduction is followed by a collection of fourteen recent research articles addressing fundamental issues of the field including psychological and functional arguments for modeling learning as a deliberative, planful process; experimental evaluation of the benefits of utility based analysis to guide decisions about what to learn; case studies of computational models in which learning is driven by reasoning about learning goals; psychological evidence for human goal driven learning and the ramifications of goal driven learning in educational contexts. The second part of the book presents six position papers reflecting ongoing research and current issues in goal driven learning. Issues discussed include methods for pursuing psychological studies of goal driven learning; frameworks for the design of active and multi-strategy learning systems and methods for selecting and balancing the goals that drive learning. Take oranges for example as a kid I had no idea why we called that bright fruit orange when they always looked more yellow. The same goes for Turkey the country versus Turkey the bird. You'd think it would be simple but it took me a while. Similarly although I've been practicing Tantra for over 30 years and designing learning for about 20 I haven't connected the dots between the Tantric Tattvas psychological system and popular instructional design theories until recently. It was like a lightbulb went off in my head. That's why I'm so excited to tell you about my new Tantra Learning Framework. This instructional design method is based on the 36 Tattvas from Kashmir Shaivism I mapped how the tattvas and five tantric systems of reality relate to classic ID models theories and frameworks The goal is for this framework to be a real game changer in creating engaging learning experiences and shortening the time it takes to develop e learning projects I can t wait to see how you all put it to use
