The Path of Unreason George Oliver Smith, 1958      The Terror of God Navid Kermani, 2011-10-10 How can suffering and injustice be reconciled with the idea that God is good that he loves humans and is merciful to them Job's question runs through the history of the three monotheistic religions Time and again philosophers theologians poets prophets and laypersons have questioned their image of God in the light of a reality full of hardship Some see suffering as proof of God's existence others as a demonstration that there can be no God while others still respond by rebelling against Him In this remarkable book Navid Kermani a distinguished Islamic scholar of Iranian origin sees this revolt against God as the central motif of one of the great but neglected works of literature The Book of Suffering by the thirteenth century Persian poet Faridoddin Attar Through the prism of Attar's text Kermani tells the story of a religious faith that knows God but is angry with Him a counter theology that runs through many religions and connects Judaism Islam and modernity With astonishing range and stylistic brilliance Kermani brings Attar to life as one of us enabling the great Persian poet to speak directly to us today despite the time that separates us      From Violence to Speaking Out Leonard Lawlor, 2016-08-30 Drawing on a career long exploration of 1960s French philosophy Leonard Lawlor seeks a solution to the problem of the worst violence The worst violence is the reaction of total apocalypse without remainder it is the reaction of complete negation and death it is nihilism Lawlor argues that it is not just transcendental violence that must be minimised all violence must itself be reduced to its lowest level He offers new ways of speaking to best achieve the least violence which he creatively appropriates from Foucault Derrida and Deleuze and Guattari as speaking freely speaking distantly and speaking in tongues      The Blackness of Black William David Hart, 2020-10-16 This book explores the relations among blackness antiblackness and Black people within the discourse of the blackness of black This critical discourse developed during the last two decades as scholars explored what Saidiya Hartman describes as the afterlife of slavery Hartman's concept which argues for a troubling continuity between the status of enslaved and emancipated Black people is the pivot between discursive tributaries and trajectories Tributaries of the discourse of the blackness of black comprise five foundational concepts Frantz Fanon's phobic blackness Orlando Patterson's social death Cedric Robinson's racial capitalism and the black radical tradition and Hortense Spillers' flesh The book traces three trajectories within the afterlife of slavery Frank Wilderson's Afropessimism Fred Moten's generative blackness and Calvin Warren's black nihilism This ensemble of concepts enable us to understand what is at stake in how we understand the relations among blackness antiblackness and Black people      Understanding Foucault, Understanding Modernism David Scott, 2017-02-23 Michel Foucault remains to this day a thinker who stands unchallenged as one of the most important of the 20th century Among the characteristics that have made him influential is his insistent blurring of the border separating philosophy and literature and art carried out on the basis of his confronting the problem of modernism which he characterizes as a permanent task To that end even his most explicitly historical or strictly epistemological and methodological enquiries which on their surface would seem not to have anything to do with literature are full of allusions to modernist writers and artists like Mallarmé Baudelaire Artaud Klee Borges Broch sometimes fleetingly sometimes more extensively as is the case with Foucault's life long devotion to Bataille Klossowski Blanchot and de Sade Understanding Foucault Understanding Modernism shows on the one hand that literature and the arts play a fundamental structural role in Foucault's works while on the other hand it shifts to the foreground what it presumes to be motivating Foucault the interrogation of the problem of modernism The London Object Grant Hamilton, 2021-05-26 tienne Balibar writes that today we are at the end of capitalism This is not because capitalism has run its course or has met an irresistible force but because there can be no purer form of capitalism than the one we have today Taking seriously the idea that this strain of capitalism has not only seized the urban environment but is the urban environment works by Michael Moorcock Iain Sinclair Penelope Lively Peter Ackroyd and J G Ballard are read as representative of a loosely allied group of London writers who have anticipated critiqued and offered up various avenues of resistance to the deleterious effects of this most vigorous strain of capitalism Writing on the city by charting a politics of reconnection to the real that necessarily unsettles the epistemological and ontological ground upon which both modernity and capitalism sit this stable of writers makes clear the ways in which the sheer materiality of the urban environment profoundly influences the being and thinking of individuals In so doing these writers produce works which when read together give the coordinates of an altermodernity that might just allow capitalism to reach its final conclusion The Collected Works of G.K. Chesterton Gilbert Keith Chesterton, 1986 Throughout his life Gilbert Chesterton always had a propensity for throwing his genius around As a result of this tendency Chesterton penned articles essays stories and poems for so many periodicals that it was almost impossible to keep track of them In this volume Dr Denis J Conlon Professor of English Literature at the University of Antwerp has compiled Chesterton's short stories some of which have never appeared in print Many stories will be new to Chesterton fans because they were originally published in England and never appeared in U S editions and others published in the U S remain unknown on the other side of the Atlantic Dr Conlon also includes the lost Father Brown stories Fr Brown and the Donnington Affair and The Mask of Midas There are 43 short stories here along with a selection of 25 complete and incomplete tales from Chesterton's notebooks and numerous drawings and illustrations Some of the stories in this wonderful volume are The Coloured Lands The Sword of Wood The Trees of Pride How I Found the Superman The Five of Swords Homesick at Home and The End of Wisdom With illustrations The Protests of Job Scott A. Davison, Shira Weiss, Sajjad Rizvi, 2022-05-06 This book explores the protests of Job from the perspectives of Jewish Christian and Islamic religious and philosophical traditions Shira Weiss examines how challenges to divine justice are understood from a Jewish theological perspective including the pro protest and anti protest traditions within rabbinic literature in an effort to explicate the ambiguous biblical text and Judaism's attitude towards the suffering of the righteous Scott Davison surveys Christian interpretations of the book of Job and the nature of suffering in general before turning to a comparison of the lamentations of Jesus and Job with special attention to the question of whether complaints against God can be expressions of faith Sajjad Rizvi presents the systematic ambiguity of being present in monistic approaches to reality as one response to evil and suffering in Islam along with approaches that attempt a resolution through the essential erotic nature of the cosmos and explores the suggestion that Job is the hero of a metaphysical revolt that is the true sign of a friend of God Each author also provides a response essay to the essays of the other two authors creating an interfaith dialogue around the problem of evil and the idea of protest against the divine

Michel Foucault and Theology James Bernauer, 2017-03-02 Whilst Foucault's work has become a major strand of postmodern theology the wider relevance of his work for theology still remains largely unexamined Foucault both engages the Christian tradition and critically challenges its disciplinary regime Michel Foucault and Theology brings together a selection of essays by leading Foucault scholars on a variety of themes within the history thought and practice of theology Revealing the diverse ways that the work of Michel Foucault 1926-1984 has been employed to rethink theology in terms of power discourse sexuality and the politics of knowledge the authors examine power and sexuality in the church in late antiquity Castelli Clark Schuld raise questions about the relationship between theology and politics Bernauer Leezenberg Caputo consider new challenges to the nature of theological knowledge in terms of Foucault's critical project Flynn Cutrofello Beadoin Pinto and rethink theology in terms of Foucault's work on the history of sexuality Carrette Jordan Mahon This book demonstrates for the first time the influence and growing importance of Foucault's work for contemporary theology

Foucault Now James Faubion, 2014-02-27 Michel Foucault is recognized as one of the twentieth century's most influential thinkers however the authors in this volume contend that more use can be made of Foucault than has yet been done and that some of the uses to which Foucault has so far been put run the risk of and occasionally simply amount to misuse This interdisciplinary volume brings together a group of esteemed scholars recognized for their command of and insights into Foucault's oeuvre They demonstrate the many respects in which Foucault's project of an ontology of the present remains vital and continues to yield compelling insights and show that an ontology of the present is restricted to no particular terrain but instead ranges widely and on paths that frequently intersect The essays in this much needed new collection address the key components of Foucault's thought ranging from his approach to power biopolitics and parrhesia to analysis of key texts such as Folie et D raison and Histoire de la sexualité This collection will spark debate amongst students and scholars alike and demonstrates that that every further encounter with Foucault's corpus is more likely than not to demand a revisiting of interpretations already formulated conclusions already drawn uses already devised Contributors include Didier Eribon Eric Fassin John Forrester Ian Hacking Lynne Huffer Colin Koopman James Laidlaw Laurence McFall Mariella Pandolfi Paul Rabinow and Cary Wolfe
