Semiotics of Landscape George Nash,1997 A thought provoking collection of essays which take a cognitive approach to landscape examining the phenomenology and symbolism of landscapes and monuments Past Bodies Dusan Boric,John Robb,2014-01-31 Archaeology often struggles in envisioning real people behind the world of material objects it studies Even when dealing with skeletal remains archaeologists routinely reduce them to long lists of figures and attributes Such a fragmentation of past subjects and their bodies if analytically necessary is hardly satisfactory While material culture is the main archaeological proxy to real people in the past the absence of past bodies has been chronic in archaeological writings At the same time these past bodies in archaeology are omnipresent Bodily matters are tangible in the archaeological record in a way most other theoretical centralities never appear to be Ancient bodies surround us in representations in burials in the remains of food preparation cooking and consumption in hands holding tools in joint efforts of many individual bodies who built architecture and monuments This collection of papers is a reaction to decades of the body s invisibility It raises the body as the central topic in the study of past societies researching its appearance in a wide variety of regional contexts and across vast spans of archaeological time Contributions in this volume range from the deep Epi Palaeolithic past of the Near East through the European Neolithic and Bronze Age Classical Greece and Late Medieval England to pre Columbian Central America post contact North America and the most recent conflicts in the Balkans In all these case studies the materiality of the body is centre stage Possibilities are highlighted for future study by putting the body at the forefront of these archaeological studies an attempt is made to provoke the imagination and map out new territories Journal of Mediterranean Studies ,1991 Accordia Research Papers Edward Herring,Ruth D. Missione a Malta Ariela Fradkin Anati,Emmanuel Anati,1988 The Oxford Handbook of Light in Archaeology Costas Papadopoulos,Holley Moyes,2021-12-09 Light has a fundamental role to play in our perception of the world Natural or artificial lightscapes orchestrate uses and experiences of space and in turn influence how people construct and negotiate their identities form social relationships and attribute meaning to im material practices Archaeological practice seeks to analyse the material culture of past societies by examining the interaction between people things and spaces As light is a crucial factor that mediates these relationships understanding its principles and addressing illumination s impact on sensory experience and perception should be a fundamental pursuit in archaeology However in archaeological reasoning studies of lightscapes have remained largely neglected and understudied This volume provides a comprehensive and accessible consideration of light in archaeology and beyond by including dedicated and fully illustrated chapters covering diverse aspects of illumination in different spatial and temporal contexts from prehistory to the present. Written by leading international scholars, it interrogates the qualities and affordances of light in different contexts and in material environments, explores its manipulation and problematises its elusive properties. The result is a synthesis of invaluable insights into sensory experience and perception, demonstrating illumination's vital impact on social, cultural and artistic contexts.

Ancient Goddesses Lucy Goodison, Christine Morris, 1998. The nurturing Earth Goddess, the Great Mother worshipped at the dawn of civilization: historical fact or consoling fiction? While Goddess mythologies proliferate and the public devours books by artists, psychotherapists and enthusiastic amateurs, it is remarkable that those in the field of prehistory have remained largely silent. Did Goddess worship really exist? What actually remains from the earliest cultures and what can it tell us? What can we learn about the early stages of human religion from the study of prehistoric carvings, pictures, pottery, figurines and temples? In Ancient Goddesses, historians and archaeologists write accessibly about this intriguing and controversial topic for the first time. Considering a number of significant early civilizations: Predynastic and Early Dynastic Egypt, Old Europe, Early North West Europe, Celtic civilization, the Prehistoric Aegean, Malta, the Ancient Near East, Old Testament Israel, the Archaic Greek world, these experts review the most recent evidence so that readers can make up their own minds. Contributors include Ruth Tringham and Margaret Conkey, University of California, Berkeley; Lynn Meskell, New College, Oxford; Fekri Hassan, University College London; Karel van der Toorn, University of Amsterdam; Joan Westenholz, Bible Lands Museum, Jerusalem; Elizabeth Shee Twohig, University College Cork; Caroline Malone, New Hall, Cambridge; Mary Voyatzis, University of Arizona; and Miranda Green, University of Wales College.

The Antiquaries Journal, 1960. Occasional Paper (Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland), 1968. The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines Timothy Insoll, 2017-04-13. Figurines dating from prehistory have been found across the world but have never before been considered globally. The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines is the first book to offer a comparative survey of this kind, bringing together approaches from across the landscape of contemporary research into a definitive resource in the field. The volume is comprehensive, authoritative and accessible, with dedicated and fully illustrated chapters covering figurines from the Americas, Europe, Africa, Asia and Australasia and the Pacific, laid out by geographical location and written by the foremost scholars in figurine studies. Wherever prehistoric figurines are found, they have been expertly described and examined in relation to their subject matter, form, function, context, chronology, meaning and interpretation. Specific themes that are discussed by contributors include, for example, theories of figurine interpretation, meaning in processes and contexts of figurine production, use, destruction and disposal, and the cognitive and social implications of representation. Chronologically, the coverage ranges from the Middle Palaeolithic through to areas and periods where an absence of historical sources renders figurines prehistoric, even though they might have been produced in the mid 2nd millennium AD, as in parts of sub

Saharan Africa The result is a synthesis of invaluable insights into past thinking on the human body gender identity and how the figurines might have been used either practically ritually or even playfully
