Soil And Water Conservation Policies And Programs Successes And Failures:

Soil and Water Conservation Policies and Programs Ted L. Napier, Silvana M. Napier, Jiri Tvrdoň, 1999-11-24 For as far into the future as we can see governments will probably topple power will continue to exchange hands the climate will undergo continuous change and the global economy will ebb and flow like the oceans But for the world's many diverse countries whether they be highly industrialized or third world one thing will always remain constant the need to solve the planet's pressing soil and water conservation problems as well as implement effective policies But why do some policy initiatives succeed while others fail Soil and Water Conservation Policies and Programs Successes and Failures addresses this very question Based on an international conference held in Prague this book debates the strengths and weaknesses of soil and water conservation initiatives implemented in North America Europe and Australia Soil and water conservation policies in the United States Canada Germany Austria Yugoslavia and other countries are examined through the eyes of technical and soil scientists And the book also addresses specialized topics such as agricultural pollution abatement in Poland and private farmers and contemporary conservation subsidy programs in the Czech Republic With its thorough treatment of the subject matter Soil and Water Conservation Policies and Programs Successes and Failures contributes to resolving one of the world's most pressing conservation issues

Soil Degradation in the United States Rattan Lal, Thomas Iivari, John M. Kimble, 2003-09-25 Soil Degradation in the United States Extent Severity and Trends examines the magnitude and severity of soil degradation by different processes in the U S including water erosion wind erosion C depletion soil compaction salt build up and soil contamination In addition it addresses policy issues with regard to economic and environmental

America's Political Inventors George W. Liebmann, 2017-12-11 Recent American political developments including the election of Donald Trump reveal profound disquiet with the highly centralized political regime based on discretionary allocation of funds and powers to interest groups that has developed since the creation of emergency institutions after America's entry into World War I This book demonstrates the effectiveness in American history of measures conceived in a different spirit addressing the population at large rather than particular interest groups relying on citizen and local initiative and founded not on the distribution of frequently unearned benefits and powers but on reciprocal contributions and obligations George W Liebmann discusses John Winthrop and his foundation of New England towns John Locke and the creation of Southern plantations Thomas Jefferson and his scheme for the organization of Northwestern townships and American territories and states Joseph Pulitzer and the origins of municipal home rule John Wesley Powell and the creation of reclamation districts Hugh Hammond Bennett and the fostering of soil conservation districts and Byron Hanke and the development of residential community associations The book concludes with a number of public policy proposals relating to housing urban renewal care of the elderly immigration and youth unemployment conceived in the same spirit Liebmann brings to light little known facts concerning the growth of practices and institutions that Americans take for granted His book will be of interest to students of biography history and government Soil Erosion in Europe John Boardman, Jean Poesen, 2007-01-11 Provides a unique and comprehensive assessment of soil erosion throughout Europe an important aspect to control and manage if landscapes are to be sustained for the future Written in two parts Soil Erosion in Europe primarily focuses on current issues area specific soil erosion rates on and off site impacts government responses soil conservation measures and soil erosion risk maps The first part overviews the erosion processes and the problems encountered within each European country whilst the second section takes a cross cutting theme approach Based on an EU funded project that has been running for four years with erosion scientists from 19 countries Reviews contemporary erosion processes and rates on arable and rangeland in Europe Looks at current issues such as socio economic drivers controlling factors specific to the country and changes in land use Soil and Water Conservation Frederick R. Troeh, James Arthur Hobbs, Roy Luther Donahue, 2004 Written from an agronomic rather than an engineering perspective this introduction to soil and water conservation explores a full range of topics and environmental issues including some ignored or overlooked in other books on the subject Comprehensive up to date and accessible it considers the hazards posed by erosion sedimentation and pollution and describes the techniques needed to conserve soil and maintain environmental quality Situations and examples are drawn from many places to represent a cross section of the soils climates and cultures of the world as well as the full scope of agricultural engineering mining and other uses of the land The volume covers conserving soil and water soil erosion and civilization geologic erosion and sedimentation water erosion and sedimentation wind erosion and deposition predicting soil loss soil surveys as a basis for land use planning cropping systems tillage practices for conservation conservation structures vegetating drastically disturbed areas pastureland rangeland and forestland management water conservation soil drainage irrigation and reclamation soil pollution water quality and pollution economics of soil and water conservation soil and water conservation agencies in the United States and soil and water conservation around the world For professionals that deal with soil and water conservation
