This ad hits upon an American sentiment expressed not just in advertising but heard from other sectors of society during the American engagement in the First World War. It was an idea both imagined and practiced from military culture to sheet music writers about the power of music to help create a strong military and national community in the face of the conflict. It appears straightforward. Nevertheless, the published sheet music in addition to discourse about gender, soldiering, and music evince a more complex picture of society. This book presents a study of sheet music and military singing practices in America during the First World War that critically situates them in the social discourses including issues of segregation and suffrage and the historical context of the war. The transfer of musical styles between the civilian and military realm was fluid because so many men were enlisted from homes with the sheet music while they were also singing songs in their military training. Close musical analysis brings the meaningful musical and lyrical expressions of this time period to the forefront of our understanding of soldier and civilian music making at this time.

Soldier of Fortune Poet Sonny Silvaroli, 2020-02-24. This book is about a kid who was born and grew up on the north and wrong side of the tracks of a very small town in poverty. And at age nine was on his own, street-wise, with divorced parents going separate ways. Two sisters went to live with aunts; the kid was on his own and lived with various neighborhood families for very short periods of time, and at one very short period of time with an aunt and uncle with their own 5 children, which caused a hardship as well and caused one of the many times the kid ran away from this home town. From nine to seventeen years of age, the kid still on his own, quit school in the 10th grade, lied his age to join the Marines, and this was the stepping stone to an education and better life. Finished High School while in the Marines and went on to self-better education in order to earn his flying wings of being a Commercial Pilot, Flight Instructor, Instrument II Airplane, Multiengine, and Single engine Land and Sea Aircraft Dispatcher, Aircraft Builder. Attended a Community College that provided degrees in Airport Management and Airport Administration while actually being an Airport Manager of several General Aviation Airports and flying cargo many hours across the Devil's Triangle at times a Corporation Pilot, Not a Mercenary but a Soldier of Fortune as a civilian Pilot for our Country's involvement with various 3rd world Country's. Built his own Aerobatic Airplanes to fly in aerobatic competition, winning many a first place contest in the Intermediate category of competition as a Quiet Birdman. Sat down to dinner with Astronauts, Presidents of many Major Airlines, Airline Chief Pilots, Movie Stars, and Many VIP's and is still alive at 86. Of the writing of this book with just a touch of autobiography, a few adventures of being a Soldier of Fortune, all told in Rhyme, and his various poems that reveal his character and his attempt way too late in life to now relax and learn to play golf, and author poems. None of this is fiction.
