Solitude De La Pitie:

Solitude de la pitié Jean Giono, 1930 Solitude de la pitié Jean Giono, 1973 , Guerre et révolution dans le roman français de 1919 à 1939 Maurice Rieuneau, 2000 The Literature of Provence Daniel Vitaglione, 2000-01-01

Annexed by France in 1481 Provence still retains its own distinct culture traditions and language While many primarily French authors like Emile Zola have dabbled in Provencal literature this book is dedicated to those whose lives and writing careers have been devoted to this temperate and beautiful land Included are analyses of the important literary contributions of groups or schools like the Troubadours and the Felibres poets like Frederic Mistral and Henri Bosco playwrights such as Marcel Pagnol novelists like Alphonse Daudet and more recent writers such as Marie Mauron and Jean Claude Izzo Photographs of many of the authors illustrate the text which includes English translations of extracts so that even readers unfamiliar with the language of Provence can enjoy its literature This introduction is ideal both for those who have enjoyed the work of the featured authors before and for those who are yet to be exposed to the charms of Provencal Persistent Voice : Essays on Hellenism in French Literature since the 18th Century, in honor of Professor Henri M. Peyre (the) Walter G. Langlois, The Solitude of Compassion Jean Giono, 2002-11-05 The Solitude of Compassion a collection of short stories never before available in English won popular acclaim when it was originally published in France in 1932 It tells of small town life in Provence drawing on a whole village of fictional characters often warm and decent at times immoral and coarse Giono writes of a friendship forged in a battlefield trench in the midst of World War I an old man s discovery of the song of the world and in the title story the not unrelated feelings of compassion and pity In these twenty stories Giono reveals his marvelous storytelling through his vivid images and lyrical prose whether he is conveying the delicate scents of lavender and pine trees or the smells of damp earth and fresh blood Popular Front Paris and the Poetics of Culture Dudley Andrew, Steven Ungar, 2005 The authors highlight the new symbolic forces put in play by technologies of the illustrated press and the sound film technologies that converged with efforts among writers artists and other intellectuals to respond to the crises of the decade The Open Road Jean Giono, 2021-10-12 A nomad and a swindler embark on an eccentric road trip in this picaresque philosophical novel by the author of The Man Who Planted Trees The south of France 1950 A solitary vagabond walks through the villages towns valleys and foothills of the region between northern Provence and the Alps He picks up work along the way and spends the winter as the custodian of a walnut oil mill He also picks up a problematic companion a cardsharp and con man whom he calls the Artist The action moves from place to place and episode to episode in truly picaresque fashion Everything is told in the first person present tense by the vagabond narrator who goes unnamed He himself is a curious combination of qualities poetic resentful cynical compassionate flirtatious and self absorbed While The Open Road can be read as loosely strung entertainment interspersed with caustic reflections it can also be interpreted as a projection of the relationship of author art and audience But it is ultimately an exploration of the tensions and boundaries between affection and commitment and of the competing needs for solitude independence and human bonds As always in Jean Giono the language is rich in natural imagery and as ruggedly idiomatic as it is lyrical

Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11 Cinema has been long associated with France dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumi_re screened their works the first public viewing of films anywhere Early silent pioneers Georges Méliès Alice Guy Blaché and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumi_re brothers and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895 From undisputed masters to obscure one timers nearly 3 000 directors are cited here including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France Each director's entry contains a brief biographical summary including dates and places of birth and death information on the individual's education and professional training and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym The entries also provide complete filmographies including credits for feature films shorts documentaries and television work Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia from masters of the Golden Age_Jean Renoir and René Clair_to French New Wave artists such as François Truffaut and Jean Luc Godard
